Israelis, Arabs Endorse New UN Cease-Fire Pact

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Israel and Egypt battled in the air and on the ground along the Suez Canal Saturday for the second day in a row and then agreed to a new United Nations supervised cease-fire at midnight.

The agreement was announced at U.N. headquarters in New York. A reconnaissance group of U.N. truce observers moved into Ismailia in the middle of the battle zone where fighting has erupted sporadically since the cease-fire last month that halted the Middle East war.

In Saturday's fighting, the third consecutive weekend clash, Israel claimed its forces downed six Soviet-built Egyptian jets, four within an hour, and lost no planes of its own. Israeli casualties were listed as one killed and 20 wounded.

An Egyptian military spokesman claimed six Israeli planes were shot down, while one Egyptian plane was hit and its pilot parachuted to safety. A communique said 24 Egyptian civilians were killed and a number wounded by Israeli shelling. Cannon and mortars duelled on both sides of the waterway throughout the day. Friday, fierce fighting erupted and both sides claimed they inflicted heavy damage on the other.

Cairo sources said Israeli planes stayed well clear of Port Said at the Mediterranean entrance of the Suez Canal, where eight Soviet ships have been moored since Monday at Egypt's invitation.

Aground, each side reported stiff artillery and mortar duels in a 50-mile stretch of the southern half of the canal. In the two previous weekends, fighting was concentrated in the northern half.

The Egyptian city of Suez and its satellite towns of Firdan and Port Taufiq at the southern entrance to the canal were flash points in the new fighting. Other clashes were reported around Ismailia, 50 miles north of Suez.

The fighting appeared to be a continuation of clashes Friday in which 33 persons were killed and 58 wounded. Seven of the killed and 22 of the wounded were Israelis, a military spokesman in Tel Aviv said. A Cairo communique said some of its casualties Friday were civilians.

Israel said Saturday's clashes had begun with Egyptians opening up on Israeli trucks on the east bank of the canal, occupied (Turn To Page Six)

ABBA EBAN

Rusk, Eban Eye Future Of Mideast

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban met on the Middle East situation Saturday as moves for a settlement headed into a new phase.

"We had a general discussion, chiefly on the political aspects of the situation—how to get peace," Eban told a newsman after an hour-long talk in Rusk's office.

The Israeli leader came to Washington briefly for discussions with Rusk and other senior U.S. officials as the U.N. General Assembly appeared near the window of its inconclusive special session on the Middle East crisis.

On the U.S. side, there is displeasure with some Israeli actions—particularly her formalized takeover of Jerusalem—but U.S. officials believe also the renewed cease-fire violations are mainly Arab-instigated.

While a State Department spokesman declined to go beyond generalities on what Rusk told Eban, U.S. sources noted Rusk has publicly deplored Israel's "administrative actions" on Jerusalem and said they "cannot be regarded as determining the future of the holy places."

State Department sources said also they had received reports similar to those made public by U.N. Secretary-General U Thant—that Israeli forces had mistreated U.N. troops and stolen their property while the U.N. units were pulling out during the outbreak of the war.

On the other hand, State Department officials are inclined to attribute the fighting along the Suez Canal mainly to a Cairo desire to prop up home front morale and keep the situation (Turn To Page Six)

Newark Rioting Flares

Negroes Cite 'Reasons' For Violence

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—The rioting was sparked by the arrest of a Negro cab driver, but Negroes said Saturday the real reason behind Newark's bloody racial violence is long-simmering resentment over housing, jobs, education and just plain, unadulterated poverty.

"We have lousy homes, lousy schools," said attorney Oliver Lofton, administrator of the city's Legal Services Project which operates on federal funds from the Office of Economic Opportunity.

Lofton is the lawyer for cabbie John W. Smith, and his staff of 14 is handling the cases of hundreds of adults and teenagers jailed in the burning, the shooting and the looting.

Lofton blames the eruption that began with brick, bottle and rock throwing "on racist, brutal white cops and a mayor who refused to work with poor, helpless, frustrated people."

Democratic Mayor Hugh Addonizio has labeled the rioting "open rebellion." And Gov. Richard J. Hughes, also a Democrat, brought in 2,800 National Guardsmen to quell what he called "illegal insurrection" perpetrated by a band of "vicious criminals."

"I'd be surprised if more than three or four per cent of the Negro population is involved," Hughes said.

Lofton said "the governor is dead wrong" and that Newark's 200,000 Negroes—about half the population—"all are fed up with broken promises and do-nothing attitudes that has existed for so many years in the city's sprawling poverty community."

BLOOMINGTON SCHOOL PRINCIPAL DIES IN CRASH

STANFORD, Ill. (AP)—The principal of a Bloomington elementary school was killed in a car crash Saturday that critically injured one other man, police said.

The crash on Illinois 122 near Stanford, 15 miles east of Bloomington, killed Loren Weaver, 38, of Normal, principal of the Jefferson Elementary School.

The other driver, Wayne Coyle of Congerville, was taken to St. Joseph Hospital Bloomington, where he was reported in critical condition.

Rail Tieup Feared Following Walkouts

WASHINGTON (AP)—Announcement of two strikes and a prediction of more built pressure here Saturday for swift congressional action on Monday to avert a crippling general railroad tieup.

Officials of Machinists Union locals in Spokane, Wash., and Cumberland, Md., announced plans for their men to strike at 6 a.m. Sunday, local time, without awaiting any national authorization by top union leaders.

The western walkout would affect six roads and the eastern one two others.

Announcement of these strike plans came a few hours after J. E. Wolfe, chief spokesman for the carriers in their prolonged wage dispute with six

37,000 Strike Major Copper Producers

By The Associated Press
One of the nation's leading copper producers charged Saturday that exorbitant demands by the United Steelworkers of America brought about an industry-wide work stoppage which has idled more than 37,000 workers in 12 states.

Phelps Dodge said the steelworkers demanded wage increases totalling "more than $2 per hour." The firm made the charge in an advertisement in the Douglas, Ariz., Dispatch.

The strike, which began without incident at midnight Friday, also involved Kennecott Copper Corp., Anaconda, American Smelting and Refining Co. (ASARCO) and numerous smaller copper producers.

The strike affects about 90 per cent of the nation's production. It is centered primarily in Arizona, Utah, Nevada, New Mexico and Montana.

Exact estimates of the total economic impact were not available, but a spokesman for Kennecott said past strikes had cost more than $4 million per week in its Western Mining Divisions.

Though no major copper shortages were anticipated immediately, 25 per cent of the nation's annual production is earmarked for defense and a prolonged strike could prompt government intervention, a top federal mediator said.

American Metal Market, an industry trade publication, said copper consumers are believed to have 60 to 90 days' supply on hand.

4 More Persons Killed In Renewed Violence

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—Gunfire flashed again on a fourth, successive night of midsummer Negro rioting Saturday, exacting a new toll of dead and wounded. Only a few hours earlier, 300 white and Negro citizens had crusaded through the slum area with a plea to end the racial rebellion.

The tempo of violence increased as darkness deepened and the hour for a second city-wide curfew drew near.

The four-day death total climbed to 18—all Negroes except for a white police officer. Not included in the toll was another white detective, who died of a heart attack, attributed to exhaustion, although he had gone off duty.

Among victims brought into Newark City Hospital Saturday in police-manned ambulances was Hattie Gainer, fatally shot in the chest by a police bullet as she sat in the window of her slum home.

Once again the hospital itself became a target of nighttime snipers. Their bullets brought National Guardsmen rushing in with bayoneted rifles to throw a security guard around the building.

Earlier in the day, James H. Meredith spent six hours in the riot sector, where looting, fire-bombing Negroes have defied Guardsmen, and where sniper duels with police have made streets hazardous in daylight and darkness.

Meredith said if armed troops were withdrawn, "I am sure there will be absolutely no more trouble."

"As far as the Negro is concerned, it's all over," he said.

Woman 'Innocent' In Son's Death

URBANA, Ill. (AP)—A Circuit Court jury Saturday night acquitted Mrs. Judith Yargus, 20, charged with murdering her 11-month-old son by abandoning him in a snowbank south of Rantoul.

The jury of seven men and five women deliberated three hours and 53 minutes. Mrs. Yargus showed no emotion when the verdict was read.

During the trial, which began Monday, Mrs. Yargus testified that she had given little Mark Eugene mouth-to-mouth resuscitation when the child showed difficulty breathing. She said when that failed, she drove to a country road and placed the body in the snowbank.

She reported to police that the child had been kidnapped from her car while she shopped in Rantoul. She testified that her mind went blank after she made the report.

A statewide alert was issued. Three teen-aged boys discovered the body the following day, Feb. 19.

The prosecution argued that the baby was alive when she placed it in the snowbank.

Mrs. Yargus' ex-husband, Harry, a native of Hutsonville, was an airman stationed at Chantute Air Force Base when the child died. The couple had one other child, a 2-year-old daughter. Subsequently, they were divorced and Yargus was discharged from the Air Force.

it eventually to $10,800.

The committee has found the going slower on other portions of the complex bill. When it recessed for the weekend it was still trying to agree on terms of a revision in the rules for aid to dependent children.

There is sentiment in the committee for provisions encouraging mothers or other guardians of such children to earn funds when they can, without having their benefits reduced. This program is not part of the Social Security system as it is usually thought of but is one of the allied systems of federally aided state welfare programs.

Federal standards for eligibility to state Medicaid not medicare also are unsettled.

British Plan To Withdraw From Asia

LONDON (AP)—Turning her back on 100 years of history, Britain Tuesday will disclose a program to begin phasing out her land bases in Asia.

The eight-year program is designed also to bring British air, land, and sea-force spending into line with the nation's dwindling resources and to transform commitments assumed in the 19th century when warships of imperial Britain dominated the seas.

Advance word of the British decisions has dismayed Americans, Australians, New Zealanders, Malaysians, the people of Singapore and other friendly countries.

In particular, President Johnson has been portrayed as feeling let down by Prime Minister Harold Wilson. It seems he thought he had the British leader's personal promise that America would not be left politically and psychologically isolated as the only major Western power actively seeking to stem the onrush of Red Chinese influence through the region. Moreover, some American authorities are concerned that Britain's moves at a time of heavy U.S. reinforcement in Vietnam will be taken widely as an act of dissociation from Johnson's policies in that embattled land.

A government white paper due Tuesday will serve notice that by 1971-72 British forces (Turn To Page Six)

CHICAGO AREA MEN DIE IN AIR CRASH

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS, Ill. (AP)—Two men were killed Saturday when their private airplane crashed in a corn field.

The crash occurred at Hicks Road and Nichols Road, near the boundary of Lake and Cook counties.

The single-engine, open cockpit plane, with the seats one behind the other, was used during World War II as a pilot training craft.

The victims, Sidney Deutsh, 54, of Skokie, and William W. Thomas of Des Plaines, were pronounced dead at an Arlington Heights hospital.

Offer Reward To North Viets For Aiding Downed U.S. Fliers

SAIGON (AP)—The U.S. government, seeking recovery of more of the American fliers shot down over North Vietnam, is offering rewards of 50 tons of gold to North Vietnamese who help them escape. That's roughly $5,000.

Sixteen-million leaflets pledging pay for assistance to downed Americans were showered Thursday night over a 90-mile stretch of the country northward from the demilitarized zone, a U.S. spokesman announced Saturday.

The disclosure came in the wake of the loss of another plane, a Navy A4 Skyhawk, to ground fire in one of 94 missions over North Vietnam Friday. The pilot is missing. The Skyhawk was the 607th plane officially listed as destroyed over the North.

The Da Nang air base, from which strikes are flown against Communist targets on both sides of the border, was reported back in full operation after a Red rocket attack in the night that killed eight U.S. servicemen, wounded 173 and destroyed or damaged 42 planes.

The damage to aircraft, runways and other facilities of the 1,600-acre field, 380 miles northeast of Saigon, was unofficially estimated to range as high as $80 million.

Daylight surveys readjusted preliminary figures on both casualties and material losses in this third and most effective enemy raid on the base in the last five months.

All of the eight dead were airmen. A report that five Marines also were killed proved erroneous. The U.S. Command said 138 airmen and 35 Marines were SAIGON: U.S. officials here 7/13 said last week's toll of 282 Americans killed was the greatest of the war except for the week ending May 20 when 337 Americans died and the following week when 313 perished. In addition, 1,170 U.S. fighting men were wounded last week. The toll last week boosted American war casualties to 11,977 killed, 71,040 wounded and 675 missing or captured. wounded. Of the aircraft, eight listed fighter-bombers and three C130 transports were destroyed by the rockets. About 50 were fired over 45 minutes from a point 4.3 miles southwest of the base.

The fire-trailing missiles, of Soviet design, cratered one of the base's two 10,000 foot runways, ripped through four airmen's barracks and exploded a bomb storage building into a bright orange ball of flame the size of a football field. "It's just unbelievable that more men weren't killed," said Capt. Jay W. Kane, Chevy Chase, Md., who has seen all three attacks. "This was the worst one yet. It's just something we live with though."

Col. Robert Maloy, Coral Gables, Fla., commander of the 386th Tactical Fighter Wing, said the only way to prevent similar damage in another attack would be to put everything underground. But he added: "We can't do that."

Moscow's Choices

The McNamara visit to Vietnam, the Podgorny tour in the Middle East and the Kosygin trip to the United States reflect reappraisals by Washington and Moscow of unsuccessful military interventions abroad.

Both the Johnson and the Brezhnev-Podgorny-Kosygin administrations inherited their involvements from their predecessors. Both find their client states wanting, their own costs mounting and their ability to make efficient use of local troops waning. But each may be about to increase its commitment — more American troops for Vietnam and more Soviet arms, military advisers and economic aid for Egypt and Syria.

How much more?

The United States is more capable than the Soviet Union of producing both guns and butter. Yet Vietnam operations have already reached such a dimension that Washington is reluctant to meet General Westmoreland's troop requests, which could involve calling up reservists as a Presidential election approaches. In addition, taxes probably would have to be raised or social welfare programs further curtailed.

Moscow's choices are even more difficult. The future growth, if any, of the civilian economy and the living standards of all Soviet citizens depend heavily on strategic and foreign policy decisions now pending and on the priorities they may impose for military research, development and output.

One decision is the rate at which the U.S.S.R. continues to expand its capability for substantial military action in the Mediterranean and further afield. The large increase in Soviet military advisers and political influence that Moscow evidently is pressing on Cairo cannot make up for the limited Soviet capability for sustained military action in that theater.

A more important decision that Moscow now faces is whether to continue to pursue parity with the United States in strategic nuclear forces or to respond to American proposals for a moratorium in offensive as well as defensive missile systems. Another series of upward spirals in the arms race could cost as much as $60 billion. A race between missile and antimissile systems could replace the present relative stability by military doctrines based on nervousness and uncertainty.

Many of this country's leading Soviet analysts agree with Prof. Marshall D. Shulman of Columbia, writing in The New Leader, that "the Politburo has reached a time for decision" on these and related questions of world strategy. The Soviet leadership, Dr. Shulman suggests, might decide to lessen tensions with the United States and avoid a new arms race in order to concentrate resources on the domestic economy.

But dogmatic ideas and military interests may prevail in the Kremlin. Or a clear decision could be prevented by divergencies and weaknesses in leadership.

An effort by the Kremlin to muddle through with a little more intervention in the Middle East and a little more aid for North Vietnam might be combined with a gradual build-up of intercontinental missiles and anti-missile systems. The result would be higher levels of tension and military expenditure that, in the end, might be almost as dangerous as a clear Soviet move to change the balance of power in the world through the missile race or a stranglehold on Europe's oil and communications in the Middle East.

The issue that confronts Moscow — and also Washington — is not whether to seek a Soviet-American "condominium" or even political harmony, but whether to engage in imaginative common action to eliminate the risk of general war.

President Johnson reportedly went far at Glassboro to indicate that such a Soviet course would find the United States responsive in arms control, trade and other fields. He undoubtedly will have to go further, particularly on Vietnam and concrete missile proposals, if the Soviet Union responds. But the next step is Moscow's. Decisions now being made — or avoided — there could well shape the peace of the world for decades to come.

Wives Of LBJ Aides Hiss Remarks On Single Bliss

By DAVE BURGIN

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Capitol Hill during working hours is a tight little society where everybody either knows somebody or knows somebody who does know somebody. So naturally, news travels fast.

Author Frank Tarloff, whose book, "A Guide for the Married

Man," was a best seller and now is an excellent movie, was being shown certain Hill spots the other day and learned all about the Hill's huge but close-knit clan.

Tarloff was being told by a newspaperman and a congressman what senators and congressmen do after hours, where they go, etc.

"Hmmm," mused Tarloff.

"That sounds like great stuff. Maybe I should write a sequel, 'A Guide for the Married Congressman.'"

As we were saying, word on the Hill travels fast, because a check of Hill lounges and private clubs produced "one of the worst business evenings I've had in years," as one night-spot manager put it.

President Johnson did not exactly endear himself to the wives of his aides when he was quoted in the book, "A Day in the Life of President Johnson," as saying he wished some of his top aides were single.

The President's reason for this, he said, was that aides couldn't stay late for important clean-up work because they had to get home to their wives and dinner.

We called the wives of two of the President's top aides and got these reactions:

"What's he expect — blood?" "I would rather not comment on such an unrealistic idea."

It was business as usual on the House floor when suddenly, Rep. Daniel J. Flood, D-Pa., jumped up to announce, "I've just heard a treaty with Panama has been concluded."

Negotiators for Panama and the United States had agreed on pacts concerning the control, defense and neutrality of the existent Panama Canal and providing for a new sea-level passage.

Some members of Congress object to any possibility the United States may relinquish sovereignty over the Canal Zone in favor of joint administration. Flood is apparently among those who feel the President pulled a sneak play while attentions were turned elsewhere.

"I am so mad about this, coming on the Mideast situation, that I could spit," Flood raged. "Please," came a voice from afar, "not here."

Mideast Puts U.N. To Acid Test

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
WASHINGTON (NEA) — Struggling with the difficult question of how to pacify the Middle East, the United Nations stands in danger of seeing its already severely limited usefulness shrink still further.

In effect, the case of victorious Israel has been tried in free world newspapers and a verdict of "not guilty" returned on the charge of aggression levied by the Arab world and its somewhat shaken counselor, the Soviet Union.

Against the now well-told story of the six-day war and quite ugly Arab-Soviet prelude, the indictments in the U.N. reverberate with an unreal clatter.

It is widely appreciated that the beaten Arabs and their sometime friends in Moscow must act out their frustrations in this current charade. The danger lies in the probability that all too many U.N. member states — East European, African, Asian — will accept the unreal in place of the real.

It will be seriously damaging to the U.N. if its final verdict reflects heavily the contamination of this unreality.

Much of the English-speaking world, Western Europe, western-oriented parts of Asia, and perhaps other lands would not likely accept any significant endorsement of the outrageous fictions spun in Cairo and Moscow.

Such an endorsement would strain to the breaking point the U.N.'s credibility as even a modest verbalizer on the subject of war and peace. And it does not have much else.

The day has long passed when any but incorrigible dreamers look upon the United Nations as an agency able either to enforce or to restore peace in major international disputes.

Raised out of the horror of World War II, the U.N. is pacifist in intent. But it has no means of enforcing its pacifism. So, living in a world less pacific today than in 1945, it totters on the edge of futility — its chambers most often a hippodrome of useless sound.

As has long since been hammered home, its Security Council with its veto power to any of five key nations is designed to produce action only when major war is not threatened (when the big powers may therefore agree).

In its 22 years of life, the United Nations has shown itself to be no better and possibly no worse than the world which created it.

It reflects perfectly the entrenched hostilities of the two great powers and their blocs, and the nations which try to keep out of those orbits.

It reveals well the complex make-up of India, which preaches international morality from every stump but supports Arab hatreds against Israel in a kind of ward-politics maneuver intended to curry favor with Moslems in disputed Kashmir.

Through the U.N. roster of nations in the Middle East, bordering African territory and southern Asia, ties of Moslem solidarity seem far stronger than any notions of world justice — or even peace.

Black African lands, if not Moslem in sympathy, find other unity in nearly implacable opposition to the former colonial powers (and their American cousins). Old fires consume energies they need for building.

Many U.N. chairs are warmed by African "nations" which are no more than tribes, or clusters of loosely-knit tribes, as in troubled Nigeria.

Tribalism, the strong sweep of religion, the conflicting voices of the non-ideologues in the democracies, the fanaticism of a Communist ideology that insists it must blanket the globe, all these and many other currents run through the corridors of the United Nations.

It can always have a certain utility as a meeting place and focal point for these currents. But up to now it has managed something more. For all its weaknesses, probably not curable by reforms, it still has had about it the aura of the great arena where the goals of peace could be honored verbally if no other way.

That quite thin aura could vanish quickly if too many U.N. members, playing their special games, try to paint an unreal picture of the Middle East war.

Ann Landers: Teen Asks To Be Trusted

By ANN LANDERS
Dear Ann Landers: I am a 16-year-old girl with a 42-year-old problem, my father.

I have always been a good student, dependable, honest and hard-working. I have never been in any kind of trouble, and I don't plan on getting into any. I began dating at 15 and I have never broken a curfew or gone anywhere where I should not have gone.

Yet my father does not trust me with a boy no matter who he is. Every time I come home from a date I get the third degree and a lecture. I have heard the same speech at least 50 times. My father thinks all boys become sex maniacs at the age of 16.

I have heard it said that fathers who worry most about their daughters are the ones who chased everything in skirts when they were teen-agers. Is this true? I need your help. — NO FAITH

Dear Faith: It's a waste of time to speculate about what your father did when he was a teen-ager. The important thing is that he "does" allow you to date, so be thankful for small favors, Chicken. Listen to his lectures, continue to keep your record perfect and prove him wrong, wrong, wrong, wrong.

Dear Ann Landers: I hope you will print this letter for the woman who has had a good marriage for 10 years but can't get her high school sweetheart off her mind. Her letter was the story of my life. I got a divorce, gave up my two children and thought I was going to live happily ever after with my "great love." The last three years have been hell. I see none of the glamor and romance I was sure was there. I see only a cold, selfish man who leaves me emotionally starved. Furthermore, I had to go to work to keep the bill collectors off our necks. Just sign me — DREAMER WHO WOKE UP TOO LATE

Dear Dreamer: I hope the hundreds of women who wrote to tell me that they, too are eating their hearts out for an old flame will take a page out of your book before they get burned — as you did.

Dear Ann Landers: Mazie and I have been best friends for years. She began to date Eddie eight months ago. I always admired his sharp mind and wonderful wit. Mazie never treated him right and about six weeks ago they broke up.

When Eddie called me for a date I told him I'd feel like a rat going out with him because of my friendship with Mazie. He assured me that they were kaput, so I said I would have to talk to Mazie myself before I gave him an answer.

When I asked Mazie how she stood with Eddie she told me it was over and I should date him if I wanted to.

Eddie and I have had three dates and we get along beautifully. But yesterday Mazie called and said she made a mistake and she wants Eddie back. I told her I didn't have him in chains and she was welcome to him. Her reply was, "He

Columbia Univ. Lends Prestige To New Filter

NEW YORK (AP) — Columbia University has lent its prestige to a new cigarette filter, one the inventor says he couldn't get past the front door of major tobacco companies.

But Columbia says it didn't go into the filter business blindly, or without purpose.

Robert L. Strickman, the industrial chemist who developed "the new filter" after several years' research, signed an agreement donating majority control of any proceeds to Columbia.

The university announced this week it would set up a separate corporation to handle licensing of the filter all over the world.

One reason the university accepted Strickman's offer for the filter was that "through the association with the university we would be able to encourage use of it," Dr. Grayson Kirk, Columbia president, said.

Strickman said he went to Columbia about four months ago after being rebuffed by cigarette manufacturers.

"There were some companies interested but they never got to see the filter," Strickman said. "I couldn't get through the front door."

Strickman said he had refused to sign the releases offered him because they were unacceptable. Many firms routinely issue releases to anyone proposing an invention.

Strickman declined to elaborate. He would not say which companies he had approached.

Strickman said he went to Columbia because its medical school was "the best in the world and I knew many people there."

Columbia was skeptical at first. But it ordered tests run at Pitelco Laboratories, Inc., an independent testing firm in Manhattan which has analyzed cigarettes for the American Cancer Society and Consumers Union.

Eleven brands of filtered cigarettes and one tipped cigar were tested for the efficiency of Strickman's filter in cutting tar and nicotine.

In Salem cigarettes, for example, it filtered out the nicotine passed to the smoker 90 per cent and the tars 67, the laboratory said.

All but the extra long Winston cigarette rated less than 10 milligrams of tar per cigarette with Strickman's filter.

Strickman said pilot tests were made with about 100 smokers, who said they found their regular cigarettes tasted as good or better with his filter. Toxicity tests on the filter were performed by Dr. Charles J. Umberger, acting director of the toxicological laboratory at the office of the chief medical examiner, who said the filter looked good to him.

Can You Unriddle This Strange Recipe?

By JIM HOWARD
MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (AP) — Riddle: what do you soak in brine, mixed spices, lemon juice and vinegar 24 hours, then baste in buckwheat honey and blackberry wine and roast for nearly five hours?

Answer: black bear.

There are many other ways of preparing West Virginia's state animal for a feast. The Rev. Joe Gluck, part-time pastor of the 192-year-old Fork-of-Cheat Baptist Church near Stewartstown, six miles north of here, can verify that.

When he and his congregation of 60 asked for "the makin'" of a bear feast to celebrate the 192nd anniversary of their church next Sunday, they were quickly assured they could have a 275-pound sow bruin.

But the congregation had to advertise for a recipe to renew the church's traditional anniversary bear feast.

The church probably collected enough culinary advice in the past ten days to provide a different-tasting bear-feast for several anniversaries.

"We were buried with bear recipes," said the Rev. Mr. Gluck.

And he's gotten a kick out of reading them. Nearly all the recipes included instructions for marinating, or pickling the bear meat. But the duration of the soaking varied from two weeks to as little as 25 minutes.

The ingredients of the pickling and basting juices were different in most of the recipes. One wag footnoted his instructions with this advice: "After properly pickling bear for 24 hours and basting for another five hours, throw out the meat and serve the juice."

The Rev. Mr. Gluck said those who had tasted bear meat say either, "It's horrible," or it's "the best wild game ever put on a table." There apparently aren't many "middle-of-the-road" bear eaters.

MONEY CLIPS

by Mort Reed

(First of two related columns.) Although bills were introduced in both the House and the Senate to immortalize President Kennedy on practically every denomination of our coinage, serious consideration was given only to the silver dollar, the half-dollar and the quarter.

Exercising whatever influence she may have had on the final decision, Mrs. Kennedy graciously objected to replacing Washington's likeness on the quarter and on Nov. 27, 1963, the mint was instructed to proceed with models for a new half-dollar.

Since the Franklin half-dollar has not run its full course of 25 years, the design change required legislative authority, but the models for the Kennedy half were well under way by the time that authority was requested by President Johnson.

The congressional act authorizing the new coin was approved on Dec. 30, 1963.

The obverse was designed by Gilroy Roberts, then chief engraver of the mint, and the reverse was designed by Frank Gasparro, who later succeeded Roberts as engraver. Both are recognized artists in the field of sculpture and engraving and they worked hard to meet the January, 1964, deadline.

Normally, processing a new coin from sketches to the finished die takes from two to three months, allowing time for approval of sketches, resolving difficulties, etc. In the case of the Kennedy half-dollar, it was accomplished in three weeks.

On Dec. 13, Roberts delivered a trial strike to Eva Adams, director of the mint, for her approval. On Dec. 17 a similar piece was shown to Mrs. Kennedy and the late President's brother, Robert. All were favorably impressed with the design. Mrs. Kennedy suggested that the portrait could be improved slightly if the part in the President's hair was less pronounced. This change was made and on Dec. 27, the second trial piece was flown to West Palm Beach for Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon's final approval.

On March 5, 1964, 26 million of the new coins were delivered to Federal Reserve banks for distribution to the eager public.

An interesting sidelight is the controversy caused by the stylized GR initials Roberts placed on the truncation of the neck of the profile. Many columnists were responsible for the spread of the rumor that the initials were in fact the Russian hammer and sickle. And this rumor persisted until officially denied by the Treasury Department.

Miss Nanandhar Tells Pilot Club Of Life In Nepal

At the July meeting of the Pilot Club of Jacksonville, held Wednesday evening at Hamilton's Restaurant, the members heard an interesting account of life in the kingdom of Nepal as related by Miss Subhadra Nanandhar who came to Jacksonville last April with her father, then visiting professor at MacMurray College and Illinois College.

Miss Nanandhar described the beauty of Nepal in its location 4500 feet above sea level, with the ever present view of Mt. Everest. Nepal is said to be in the heart of Asia, situated as it is between the two giants of China on the north and India on the south. She told of the national flower, the rhododendron, and the national animal, the yak. The latter gives milk, is used as meat, and is called the "camel of the snowy mountains."

Miss Nanandhar also told of the many ancient Buddhist and Hindu temples in the kingdom.

Following the program, a business meeting was held at which final plans were made for the representation of the club at the 46th annual convention of Pilot International which will be held at the Roosevelt Hotel in New Orleans, La., July 23-28. The official delegate of the club will be Mrs. Edward Morrison, president, with Mrs. C. Y. Rowe as alternate. Also attending the convention will be Mrs. Arthur Samore, who will serve as chairman of the credentials and registration committee.

Civilians Could Do Non-Combat Viet Jobs

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara is thinking of substituting civilians for U.S. soldiers in some nonfighting tasks in Vietnam.

McNamara indicated this might be one way of holding down on further additions to U.S. forces there, and of reducing a top-heavy ratio of support troops to combat men.

At a White House news conference Wednesday, the Pentagon chief linked a discussion of possible additional U.S. reinforcements with a new assertion that "we must use more effectively the personnel that are presently there."

Noting this line, a newsman asked whether his emphasis on more efficient use of forces meant "that you hope to make up what General Westmoreland has requested with less input of new troops from the States."

"I think that may be possible," McNamara replied.

"I suspect, for example, that we may possibly be able to use civilian construction personnel to substitute for certain military construction units that might otherwise have been required," he said.

McNamara said foreign nationals might be hired for this kind of military construction—perhaps workers laid off by the big American building consortium, RMK-BRJ, as that company's Vietnam projects near completion.

Figures gathered at the Pentagon suggest that U.S. support in the Vietnam war by almost two to one.

About 183,000 of the 531,000 American military men involved in the Vietnam war are in what are classed as combat-type units. This counts men actually in Vietnam, as well as forces in Thailand, on Guam and with the 7th Fleet off Vietnam.

By comparison, records show that in both World War II and the Korean war Army forces were divided about 57 per cent combat against about 43 per cent service support.

Military officers contended the explanation for the heavy proportion of support troops in Vietnam lies partly in the fact that Americans had to build ports, roads, airfields and other facilities from scratch because they found few such vital facilities in place.

New Business Venture

One to two tablespoons of corn starch will thicken the syrup (plus water to make one cup) from a one-pound can of fruit. The amount of cornstarch you use will depend on how thick you want the sauce; also on how much sugar is added.

Next time you serve canned snap beans, you might like to offer them this way. Add chopped onion and celery to the bean liquid and cook down rapidly in a saucepan to a little less than half the original amount. Add the drained beans and butter and re-heat.

West's double of four spades is not recommended. He knows that South is in for some bad news in trumps but North and South have reached game with no strain at all and the double may give away the trump situation in time for declarer to guard against it.

It is a cardinal principle of bidding that you don't double when you may be jeopardizing the setting trick.

The double didn't hurt this time. West was sure of his two trump tricks anyway, but he slipped in the defense later on.

South won the heart lead and decided to attack the diamond suit before going after trumps. West rose with his ace of diamonds and led a second heart. South trumped in dummy, cashed dummy's ace of trumps just in case East might be holding one. Then he started to play more diamonds. He discarded a club on the third diamond lead.

West ruffed and led a club. South went right up with dummy's ace and discarded his last club on another diamond lead. West ruffed and led a second club but South was able to ruff in his own hand; draw trumps stopping in dummy and make the rest of the tricks with what was left of the diamond suit.

How could West have beaten the contract?

When he took his ace of diamonds he should have led a club rather than the second heart. Then when he ruffed for the first time he could have given his partner a club trick.

Dynamic Church Voices

Muted in Today's Society

By DAVID POLING
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

When Dr. Robert J. McCracken announced his retirement from Riverside Church in New York this spring, he was completing much more than 20 years of pastoral leadership. He may have signaled the close of a period of distinguished preaching that has been the dynamic quality of so much of American church life.

Riverside Church, with Dr. McCracken and his predecessor, Harry Emerson Fosdick, has been the center of thrilling sermons and inspiring addresses for almost half a century. Nevertheless, a steady decline in church attendance in the last decade has shown that the era of the popular preacher may be over in this country.

Why is this? What has happened to the religious community that produced George Buttrick, Ralph Sockman, Halford Luccock, Joseph Fort Newton and Charles R. Brown?

First of all, consider the change of emphasis that has gone on in parish life. The pastor who may have aspired to becoming a great preacher spends a chunk of time in a building program. Days and months and often years are monopolized with fund raising, congregational meetings, architectural consultants and financial wizards. Add to this the increasing amount of pastoral counseling done by the local minister, plus keeping up with a highly mobile congregation and you have lost forever the leisurely hours of study and sermon preparation that are the secret weapons of every great preacher.

More than this, any pastor at all aware of the social issues crackling across his community will be deeply involved in the war on poverty, integrated housing, and exerting energy to help teenagers open a coffee house. In this schedule he may be leading a community study group on Vietnam or preparing for a two-weeks tour of duty at a summer conference.

Let's face it; parents want their pastor to be a top youth leader and most great preachers are lousy water skiers! Another reason for the decline in preaching is the competition that the pulpit has from so many other sources of communication. A century ago the pastor did not compete with radio, television or the movies. He was the man in the eyes of the public. Now his congregation hears and sees the best in public speaking at any time of day and the pastor is just one among many.

Some preachers have noted the short attention spans of their audiences. People who would follow a 40-minute sermon 30 years ago get restless after 18 minutes today. The listener, who has become conditioned to a five-minute news-cast, and a 15-minute quarter in football, is not going to support oratory that goes much beyond noon.

While we may agree that the decline in preaching is a universal experience, there are preachers who attract wide followings. I'm thinking of Bishop Gerald Kennedy of Los Angeles, Ralph Loew of Buffalo, Theodore Ferris in Boston, David MacLennan in Florida. Younger men who have maintained vigorous pastoral leadership and pulpit prowess are Buckner Fanning of San Antonio, Tex., Robert Raines of Germantown, Pa., and John Hoyt in Detroit.

Now if preaching is in decline, so is its first cousin, public speaking. Our body politic is already starting to shudder as it thinks of the nominating conventions of next summer and the ordeal of political hot air which is called public speaking. It is terrible. Every other sentence is a predictable cliché. If it weren't for the public address system, the politicians would be drowned out by the conversations and chatter of an indifferent audience.

It may well be that the transistor PA system, the high-powered microphone, the Tele-Prompter built into a mechanical lectern is the enemy of good speaking and preaching. Too many people in public life cannot project beyond the first yard of the platform and become literally speechless when threatened with a power failure.

What is called for is a return to voice training, a resolve to devote the time required in writing your own material and a deep yearning to persuade others of the rightness of your cause. If this happens, both church and state will enjoy the benefits.

Seek Funds To Finance Jersey Industrial Development Plan

JERSEYVILLE — The Jersey Industrial Development Corporation announced Thursday that up to date a total of $16,000 has been raised to assist in financing the purchase of a 73 acre tract of ground east of Jerseyville on State Route Number 16 to be developed into an industrial park.

Kick-off Breakfast
A kick-off breakfast for the fund raising drive will be held at 8 a.m. Monday, July 17th, at the Elks Club. The plans call for raising a total of $73,000 through the sale of bonds which will pay five per cent annually. The bonds will be in denominations of $100, $250, $500 and $1000.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors Thursday evening, it was decided that pledge cards will be used in seeking funds for the present time. In this manner, the Board decided that if the total $73,000 had not been pledged by August 15th that it would be inadvisable to proceed with the issuance of the bonds.

For the first time in the history of the City of Jerseyville, a workable industrial plan is being undertaken and it is the hope of members of the Board of Directors of the Corporation that local business men and area residents will invest in the program.

The meeting on Monday is open and free of charge to anyone wishing to become better acquainted with the program, and who might be willing to assist in the fund raising drive. Plans call for a breakfast to be held at 8 a.m. all week though Saturday at the Elks Club, and members of the Board of Directors will be present each morning to answer questions.

The industrial program is being undertaken with the cooperation of the Chamber of Commerce, and the local C of C office is open each day and is serving as headquarters for the Industrial Development group.

Summer Playground Program

PROGRAM ASSISTANT Lissa Moore (R) and Eddie Baker (L) turn the jump rope for Susie Jeffers on the playground at Jefferson School.

THE SCRAMBLE for the basketball is tight under the basket in play at the Jefferson school section of the Summer Playground Program. In the foreground Ricky Traut (L) and Perry Johnson scrap for the ball while Eddie Hogan looks on.

FOR THE PAST five weeks the Big Brother-Big Sister Association of Morgan county has been sponsoring a Summer Playground Program for the youth of Jacksonville. The playgrounds are located at the Jefferson School and at the Big Brother-Big Sister Recreation Center and are open from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday. Activities including ping-pong, pool, basketball, races, softball, jump rope, kickball, hiking and crafts are available daily. All children of Jacksonville and Morgan County are invited to attend this recreational and social program. A treasure hunt and hot dog fry are planned for the participants in the program in the coming weeks.

The program is in need of volunteers, especially male, to help implement this program. Anyone from high school age upwards who can give several hours a day or perhaps one day a week is needed.

Millstone 'Snatched'

BEARDSTOWN — Sheriff Carl Wubker believes he is engaged in one of the most unusual investigations in history — he is trying to unravel a mystery surrounding the sudden daylight disappearance of a 2,000 pound historic millstone.

The staid little village of Chandlerville on the Lincoln

Memorial highway, steeped in history, was jolted on Tuesday when it was discovered that the historic marker on the McDonald-Leeper property line had been "snatched."

Mrs. Davideo McDonald, an employee of the state highway department, discovered the situation upon her return from work in Springfield Tuesday evening. She said a wrecker just had to be utilized to move the old marker.

Thirty-six years ago her late husband Miles and a brother dug the great stone from a creek bed near Chandlerville and installed it as a marker separating the two homes.

Huge, round, grooved and with a hole in the middle, the millstone was one of two used in a grist mill operated a mile from Chandlerville by the great grandfather of the two boys. They cherished it as did most of the other members of the family and its sentimental and historic value grew as years passed.

Mrs. MacDonald has notified her insurance company but she says she won't place a monetary value on the stone. "I just want it back" she said.

Meantime, she added, "it may be a millstone around somebody's neck. It is getting so you can't let anything lie around in the yard anymore."

Pirates Edge Cards 6-4

PARTNERS AL BEMILLER, left, and Roland McDole of the Buffalo Bills have opened a building company to occupy their time in the off season. Right now, though, they're getting in shape for the coming football season.

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Pinch hitter Jose Pagan drove in the tie-breaking run in the eighth inning Saturday night, sparking Pittsburgh to a 6-4 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals, who lost pitching ace Bob Gibson for up to six weeks with a broken bone in his right leg.

Gibson, struck in the leg by a liner off the bat of Roberto Clemente in the fourth inning, suffered a fractured fibula above his right ankle and doctors estimated he will be sidelined from four to six weeks.

Donn Clendenon led off the eighth against reliever Nelson Briles with his second single and Gene Alley sacrificed. Clendenon took third on an infield hit by Jerry May and scored on Pagan's high bouncer to third, sending Pittsburgh ahead 5-4.

The Pirates added an insurance run in the ninth when Maury Wills singled, moved around to third on a pair of infield outs and came home on a single by Bill Mazeroski.

The Cards had tied the score 4-4 in the seventh on successive singles by Mike Shannon, Julian Javier and Ed Bressoud, and a sacrifice fly by pinch hitter Alex Johnson. Juan Pizarro then came on and struck out Lou Brock and Phil Gagliano, ending the threat.

Barber Captures 1st Win For N.Y.

On Four-Hitter

NEW YORK (AP) — Steve Barber, once Baltimore's ace lefty, stopped Cleveland on four hits Saturday and recorded his first victory as a New York Yankee, a masterful 4-1 conquest of the Indians.

Barber, 28, a one-time Oriole mainstay, came to the Yankees in a trade July 4, and lost his first outing.

But he had the Indians on his hip Saturday, striking out five and walking four.

They finally broke through against him in the seventh — the first Cleveland run in 23 innings — on a lead off triple by Duke Sims and an infield out.

By that time, however, the Yankees had pecked out a four run lead in the game that was delayed twice by rain.

Steve Whitaker started it with a solo homer in the second and the Yanks added two more in the third.

TV HELPS PARENTS FIND RUNAWAY SON

FARMINGTON, Mo. (AP) — For two days, 11-year-old Richard Dwayne McGonicle of St. Louis frustrated the best efforts of the St. Francois County Sheriff's Department, Juvenile Court and the Missouri Highway Patrol to identify him and return him to his parents.

State Trooper James Desalne found the youngster Wednesday afternoon walking along U.S. 67 at Farmington and delivered him to the sheriff's office.

Sheriff Ken Buckley, who described Richard as a nice-looking, intelligent and likeable boy, said the youngster gave several false names and addresses and kept a lot of people on the telephone checking them out.

The boy was tripped up by television. His picture was shown on a St. Louis television station and was seen by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alan McGonicle, who had been searching for him since Tuesday. They drove to Farmington Saturday morning to pick up the youngster.

A sheriff's office spokesman said Richard explained that he took a blueberry pie from the refrigerator Tuesday morning and ate it to the last crumb.

The boy said he told his sister that if she told on him, which she did, he would run away, which he did.

Former pitcher Sid Hudson is the minor league pitching coach for the Washington Senators.

Members of the Jacksonville City Power team will meet at 11:30 a.m. this morning at the shopping center before leaving for this afternoon's double-header in Springfield.

NAACP Blames City Officials For Newark Riots

BOSTON (AP) — The NAACP convention Saturday placed much of the blame on city officials for rioting in Newark, N.J., and also unexpectedly adopted without debate the entire report of the organization's resolutions committee.

An emergency resolution accepted overwhelmingly stated that the Newark city administration failed "to take corrective action to meet many of the grave social ills of the Negro community."

The resolutions committee report recommended keeping the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People from siding with "hawks" or "doves" on the Vietnam war.

Another proposal called for support of the principal of a guaranteed annual income.

The emergency resolution on Newark was brought by William H. Booth, chairman of the New York City Commission on Human Rights.

Booth said the violence was sparked in part because of Newark Mayor Hugh J. Addonizio's attempt to "appoint an unqualified white man over an exceptionally qualified Negro to a post on the Board of Education in the face of a unified demand from the Negro community."

Well into the afternoon, the "young Turks" and youth delegates tried to get emergency resolutions on the floor to reorganize the NAACP's board of directors.

BOY ELECTROCUTED IN SWIMMING POOL

SEYMOUR, Ill. (AP) — A 4-year-old Lawrenceburg, Ind., boy was electrocuted Saturday in a swimming pool on the Robert Graham farm near Seymour, west of Champaign-Urbana.

Officials said the child pulled the cord of a water circulation pump, yanking the running motor into the pool. Adults pulled the motor out of the water, setting it on the pool's metal rim. Then they pulled the child out. He received the fatal shock as his wet body touched the pool rim.

His parents are the Rev. and Mrs. Jack Bird. Bird is a minister in a Lawrenceburg church.

Babe's Name Is Still Magic

By SANDY PADWE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Most of the trophies and mementos are in Cooperstown now. Only some pictures and a few awards remain.

"It's better this way," Mrs. Babe Ruth said. "The Hall of Fame has a beautiful display of Babe's trophies and things. Everybody can see it."

Mrs. Claire Ruth lives in mid-Manhattan, on Riverside Drive, just a few blocks from where she and Babe lived when he was setting all his home run records for the New York Yankees.

"The kids in the neighborhood all knew him," Mrs. Ruth remembers. "They used to wait for him outside the building when it was time to go to the ballpark. There was one boy who never let anyone else touch Babe's car."

"Babe used to leave for the ballpark an hour earlier than necessary," Mrs. Ruth continued, "to sign the autographs for the kids."

Mrs. Ruth lives quietly now in the spacious apartment building overlooking the Hudson River.

She makes public appearances on behalf of Babe Ruth League baseball and attends the Hall of Fame ceremonies at Cooperstown each summer. And she doesn't miss many games at Yankee Stadium.

"Sometimes," Mrs. Ruth said, "it's hard to look out at right field and not see Babe there. After Babe died, I didn't go to the stadium for two years."

During his playing days, the apartment on Riverside Drive was a favorite stopping place for Babe's friends on other American League teams.

FILE CHARGES VS. YOUNG CAR THIEF

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A 13-year-old boy who police said struck two pedestrians and three automobiles, injuring one of the drivers, during a wild ride in a stolen car was turned over to juvenile court authorities.

Investigators said the stolen car ran two red traffic signals Friday, hitting two cars in the process, rammed a third car at a downtown intersection and then struck two women crossing the street.

The driver of the third car, Clarence Lee, 60, suffered two broken ribs. The pedestrians, Mrs. Maxine Schaffer, 39, of Elmira, N.Y., and her 16-year-old daughter, Sally, received cuts and bruises.

The youngster was charged with stealing more than $50, two counts of reckless and careless driving, leaving the scene of an accident, running two red lights, failure to yield the right of way to pedestrians in a crosswalk, having no state drivers license and driving under the legal age of 16.

Sen. Percy Pays Visit On Hippies

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — An impeccably-attired United States senator went out Saturday to eat bread and share talk with the bush-haired hippies to find out for himself what it's all about.

Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., who dropped in on the Haight-Ashbury district soon after flying in for a banquet speech, came away puzzled but interested.

"My generation indulged in panty raids and swallowing gold fish," Percy later told a news conference.

"This particular generation of hippies obviously is revolted by a world which has the power of destruction," he said.

"One hippie offered me a piece of bread. So I ate with him while we shared ideas. He collects money where he can so he can buy more bread and share it. It's his way of saying whatever I have is yours."

"All the hippies were anxious to talk, without knowing who I was. One had left the University of Wisconsin as a junior graduate. He was too much a non-conformist to get that degree his parents wanted him to get. So there he was wrapped in an Indian blanket."

Nicklaus Second, Two Strokes Back

HOYLAKE, England (AP) — Roberto de Vincenzo, 44-year-old golfing gauchito from the Argentine, climaxed 20 years fruitless trying Saturday and beat out defending titleholder Jack Nicklaus by two strokes for the British Open Championship.

He won it dramatically, standing off tremendous pressure and gambling to the end.

The balding, bull-shouldered internationalist, runner-up in 1950 and third four times in a campaign that started in 1948, fired a final round 70 over the Royal Liverpool links for a 72-hole score of 278, ten under par.

Nicklaus, the Golden Bear from Columbus, Ohio, who won the American Open just a month ago, gave it a charge but never managed to move closer than two shots of the Latin American. Big Jack rolled in a 25-foot putt on the 72nd hole for a 69, and a finishing score of 280.

DeVincenzo's winning total was just two shots off the all-time record in this 107-year-old tournament — the 276 registered by Arnold Palmer in winning at Troon in 1962. Palmer didn't compete here.

The winning purse was only $4,880, small by U.S. standards, but qualified DeVincenzo for the $100,000 World Series at Akron, Ohio.

It was strictly a two-man battle over the closing holes on the 6,995-yard, par 72 Royal Liverpool links as Gary Player of South Africa, in second place two strokes back at the start of the day, encountered early putting troubles.

The little star from Johannesburg, three-putting the 10th and landing in a fairway bunker at the 18th, struggled home with a 74 for 284 an ad ei of fitr hrE 74 for 284 and a tie for third money with England's sensation, 22-year old Clive Clark. Clark had a closing 72.

It was a thrilling climax as DeVincenzo battled to hold on to his lead. At one stage he was four strokes ahead of Nicklaus but the margin narrowed and the tension mounted for a British gallery that appeared partisan to the aging Argentine.

The high point came at the 16th hole.

First, Nicklaus birdied the par five hole, cutting the Argentinian's lead to two shots.

DeVincenzo, playing just behind Jack, drove to the right and there was a vast expanse of out of bounds territory awaiting a gambling or wayward shot. DeVincenzo chose to gamble.

He took out a wood and lofted the ball over the trouble to the heart of the green. He two-putted for a matching birdie and that appeared to be the clincher.

He urged immediately that the Executive Committee act quicker than usual in picking the next conference site and hold the conference early in the year because of the upcoming party conventions.

"Some of you will be directly involved as candidates," Wilson said.

One of the two official invitations extended for the next conference came from Michigan whose Gov. George Romney is prominently mentioned for the Republican Presidential nomination.

Michigan's Republican Lt. Gov. William G. Milliken also urged an early choice because of the national elections in formally inviting the lieutenant governors to hold their 1968 meeting on Mackinac Island.

The other invitation, extended by New Mexico's Lt. Gov. E. Lee Francis, was for the conference to be held in Albuquerque.

Washington's Lt. Gov. John Andrew Cherberg, a Democrat, was elected conference vice chairman for 1967-68 which means he will succeed Wilson as chairman. The conference rotates the chairman by parties.

Pope Will Visit Turkey On Peace, Unity Mission

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Paul VI, a traveling Pope in search of peace and church unity, announced Saturday he was going to Turkey for both causes July 15.

The Pope announced that on his two-day air trip he would discuss at Istanbul with Patriarch Athenagoras, spiritual leader of the world's Greek Orthodox, ways to protect the holy sites in contested Jerusalem, caught up in war a month ago and now totally under Israeli control.

The pontiff, 69, said he and Athenagoras, 81, would also look into how best to promote studies for a "perfect communion" reuniting Roman Catholics and Orthodox.

MALMOE, Sweden — (NEA) — This is all about pins. Not the kind attached to brown-skinned, bikini-clad blondes on what they call the Swedish Riviera, but the stuff that comes out of the Swedish forests and is knocked over by 16-pound hard rubber spheres. The world championship of the Federation Internationale de Quilleurs (FIQ), which includes the American Bowling Congress, was held here with 21 countries competing, from as far off as Japan.

The Americans, supposed to win in a breeze, finished sixth in the five-man team competition and third in the doubles, which means you should pardon the expression, the bowling here wasn't quite down their alley... the U.S. women outrolled them the first day by 20 pins.

The Europeans, bugs about sports anyhow, have gone off their rockers about kegling. The FIQ singles champion of France and Europe is Rene Ferrier, a baker from Montmartre in Paris. At last year's championships, he made a bet with another Parisian bowler. The loser would have to roll a bowling ball from Place Pigalle to Montmartre, an uphill distance of one and a half miles. Rene won and made the loser start at midnight. Somewhere up the hill, the ball rolled into a cafe, which gave Rene the idea they should all stop for a drink — quite a crowd had collected. They finally made it to the top of the hill at 5:30 a.m.

But in Germany, it took a while to catch on. Vic Kalman, an American bowling authority who settled in Europe five years ago as an AMF representative, hooked an exhibition for Bremen. The bowler, an American army champ, never showed, so Vic, in desperation, bowled himself. He started out strike, strike, strike. Not a murmur from the Germans. As Vic kept piling up the strikes, absolute silence. Vic finally stopped at 12 straight — a 300 game. Polite smatter of applause. The Germans hadn't really known what they were seeing.

There's a little fellow named Brian Dawson, who works for a shipping line in Grimsby, England, and manages to show up wherever a bowling tournament is held, like here in Malmoe. Not to bowl — Brian's a 141-average man — but to look. In the last year he has logged 100,000 miles all over Europe, taking along his wife and baby. It's tough on a clerk's salary, so they all camp out in the nearest park while Brian indulges his fanaticism for watching pins topple.

Then there's Eileen Cunningham, a lass from Dublin (well, actually, she's a swinging grandmother), who is the best woman bowler in Ireland and pays her own way to bowl all over the continent. She can afford it. She also happens to run the biggest bookie business in Eire, where it's legal.

The women come in all sizes. The best in Europe is Dany Formento, a statuesque brunette from Paris whose lines are part of the family heritage. Her sister is one of the leads in the Lido show. On the other side of the world, Japan presents Reiko Kiuchi, who stands under five feet in height, weighs all of 80 pounds and rolls a 16-pound, semi-fingertip ball.

It's obvious the Japanese are determined to take over the American patent on bowling, too. They all have the same perfect form imported by watching such champs as Dick Weber, who is on a month exhibition tour of Japan right now.

Next big international bowling event is the International Masters championships, slated for the lanes at the Bois de Boulogne in Paris in late November. But in 1971, the next FIQ world championship will come to the United States, probably in Milwaukee.

Between you'n' me, there are four kinds of bowling encompassed by the FIQ, but three of them involve nine-pins. The 10-pin game is strictly an American invention created to circumvent the law when the Quakers of old banned the nine-pin game as a tool of iniquity.

Hall, White Sox Errors Let Angels Win, 4-1

CHICAGO (AP) — Jimmie Hall drove in two runs with a pair of singles to help support Jack Hamilton's strong pitching Saturday as the California Angels knocked off the Chicago White Sox 4-1.

The Sox, yielding two unearned runs in a three-run fourth inning, had their American League lead trimmed to 1½ games as second-place Minnesota downed Kansas City 3-2. Hamilton, a husky right-hander acquired from the New York Mets last month, needed last out help from relief ace Minnie Rojas after checking the White Sox on five hits through 8

2-3 innings. Loser Bruce Howard, 3-7, lasted six innings before John Buzhardt and Don McMahon came out to check the Angels but the damage had been done due to faulty fielding in the fourth.

Jim Fregosi and Don Mincher walked and Hall singled home Fregosi. After Wayne Causey bobbled a Rick Reichardt's grounder for a bases-filling error, Ron Hansen fumbled Bob Knoop's bouncer and Mincher scored as the bases remained jammed. Bob Rodgers' sacrifice fly scored Hall.

AIR PLANS TO USE PLASTIC SURFACES FOR TRACK MEETS

NEW YORK (AP)—Runners and jumpers should have little excuse about the track in the Pan-American Games, starting July 22 at Winnipeg, Canada, and the 1968 Olympics in Mexico City.

The tracks will be non-skid and weather-proof. They won't be chopped up by cleat marks. They won't vary in speed according to the climate.

Like most other modern conveniences of the day, they'll be poured out of the chemist's test tube. They'll be plastic—the first time anything but natural earth or cinders has been used for these big international sports carnivals.

The material, a product of the 3M Company of St. Paul, Minn., is called Tartan. It is a specially-compounded synthetic resin designed to create a durable and consistent surface.

ARNIE ENTERS MEET

RYE, N.Y. (AP) — Arnold Palmer, the all-time leading money winner in golf, isn't getting bored with his pastime.

The Latrobe, Pa., millionaire, whose official earnings top $800,000, became the first player Saturday to enter the $250,000 Westchester Classic Aug. 24-27. "I'm looking forward to playing in the classic," Palmer wrote in submitting his entry. "That $50,000 first prize is mighty inviting in itself."

Damascus Claims 7th Victory In Dwyer Handicap

NEW YORK (AP) — Damascus, surging from last place turned back the bid of lightly regarded Favorable Turn in the home stretch, won the $83,350 Dwyer Handicap at Aqueduct Saturday and remained the horse to beat for the 3-year-old title.

Under topweight of 128 pounds, Damascus carried the white and red dotted silks of Mrs. Edith Bancroft over the sloppy 1¼ miles in 2:03 for his seventh victory, six in stakes, in 10 outings this year.

With Bill Shoemaker using his whip liberally through the final quarter mile, the son of Sword Dancer-Kerala hit the finish line three quarters of a length in front of Herbert Allen's surprising Favorable Turn. It was another 2½ lengths back to John M. Schiff's Blasting Charge, who beat Fort Drum by a head for third money.

As the strong choice of the crowd of 44,451, Damascus paid $3, $2.8 and $2.40. Favorable Turn, running his best race of the year with Ron Turcotte in the saddle, returned $11.20 and $6.20 while Blasting Charge paid $4.40.

Although seven lengths back midway of the backstretch, Shoemaker said he never was worried.

"I had an easy running horse down the backstretch," he said. "There wasn't any place to go inside when we hit the half-mile pole so we went outside."

Rounding the last turn, Damascus made his strong move and, with one-quarter-mile remaining, was second, only a length off the front running Favorable Turn.

"My horse just smothered the field on the turn, all except Favorable Turn," Shoemaker said. "When we straightened away I thought we'd beat him easy. My horse didn't tire but neither did Favorable Turn."

Mays Sidelined By Flu Attack

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Willie Mays, recovering from a severe flu siege, was hospitalized Saturday and probably will be out of the San Francisco Giants' line-up for two or three games.

"Mays is recovering from a severe influenza attack and is in need of complete rest," said Dr. Edmund Morrissey, who recommended Mays remain in St. Mary's Hospital for two or three days.

It is not likely Mays will make the Giants' upcoming road trip to Pittsburgh and Chicago, the club said.

SILVERSTONE, England (AP) — Jim Clark of Scotland, driving his first race in Britain in almost a year, won the British Grand Prix in a Lotus-Ford Saturday. It was Clark's fifth triumph in Britain's premier auto race.

Killebrew Hits Pair As Twins Edge KC

MINNEAPOLIS — ST. PAUL (AP) — Harmon Killebrew led off the ninth inning with his second home run of the game and Tony Oliva followed with another homer, lifting the Minnesota Twins past Kansas City 3-2 Saturday.

The tying and winning homers were hit on consecutive pitchers by reliever Jack Aker, who had come in the ninth to protect a 2-1 lead.

Lew Krausse and rookie Tony Pierce held the Twins to four hits until Killebrew blasted his 26th homer — tops in the majors — and Oliva connected for his ninth of the year.

The A's, who stole seven bases in the game — one short of a major league mark — jumped to a 2-0 lead in the first inning against Dean Chance, capitalizing on an error, a walk, four stolen bases and Ramon Webster's two run single.

With one out in the first, Mike Hersherberger was safe on an error, then stole second. Chance walked John Donaldson and Hersherberger and Donaldson pulled a double steal.

Webster singled to center to score the two runners. Then he stole second before Chance got the side out.

Killebrew closed the gap in the bottom of the first with a bases-empty homer.

Chance yielded only five hits before departing for a pinch hitter in the eighth. Ron Kline was the winner in relief.

Johnson's Homer Sparks Dodgers Past Cubs, 5-1

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Lou Johnson's two-run homer climaxed a four-run uprising in the third inning and Don Drysdale hurled a five-hitter as the Los Angeles Dodgers trimmed the Chicago Cubs 5-1 Saturday.

Drysdale, 8-10, struck out 10 and blanked the Cubs on one hit until the seventh, when successive doubles by Billy Williams and Ron Santo ruined his shut-out bid.

The Dodgers, winning for only the third time in their last 11 starts, jumped on Chicago ace Ferguson Jenkins, 11-7, in the third.

Dick Schofield, who had three of the Dodgers' 12 hits, led off with a single and sped to third on a bloop single by Ron Hunt. Willie Davis' sacrifice fly scored Schofield and Jim LeFebvre followed with another single. Hunt scoring when Glenn Beckert's relay sailed past third for an error. Johnson then clubbed his fourth homer of the season, chasing Jenkins.

Dr. Fager Wins Rockingham Run In Record Time

SALEM, N. H. (AP) — Dr. Fager, a leading candidate for 3-year-old horse of the year honors, knocked a full second off the track record while under a snug hold Saturday in romping to an easy victory in the $85,000 Rockingham Special at Rockingham Park.

Sent off a prohibitive 1-10 favorite by a crowd of 23,574, Dr. Fager ignored a steady rain and covered the 1¼ miles in 1:48 1/5 while defeating Reason to Hail by 4¼ lengths.

Braulio Baeza, the leading money winner among the nation's jockeys the last two years, came back after a spill in the seventh race to give Dr. Fager a flawless ride.

Unheralded Good Chris jumped from the starting gate on top in the seven-horse field, but Dr. Fager quickly gained the lead with ease just after the horse passed the eighth mark.

Baeza coolly let Dr. Fager pull away and the brilliant speedster, whose only loss in five starts this year was by disqualification, reacted in championship fashion, hitting the quarter-mile in 23 1/5, the half in 46 2/5, the three-quarters in 1:10 1/5 and the mile in 1:35 3/5.

Jarvis 3-Hits Phils For 5-2 Atlanta Victory

ATLANTA (AP) — Pat Jarvis pitched a three-hitter and Joe Torre and Clete Boyer drove in two runs apiece, leading the Atlanta Braves to a 5-2 victory over Philadelphia Saturday.

Jarvis, boosting his record to 9-3, nursed a 2-1 lead until the eighth inning, when Torre, who had homered earlier, doubled a run across and Boyer followed with a two-run homer.

Jarvis retired 23 of the last 25 batters he faced.

The only flaws in the string were homers by Bill White in the fourth inning and Rich Allen in the ninth.

The loss went to Chris Short, 5-3, who gave up only five hits before being lifted for a pinch hitter in the eighth.

Torre led off the second inning with his 13th homer. Boyer drew a walk, then took third on Woody Woodward's double and scored on Jarvis' ground out.

Rico Carty singled with two out in the eighth and Torre doubled him home, then scored on Boyer's 11th homer.

McCormick Wins 12th For Giants

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Lefty Mike McCormick scattered seven hits for his 12th victory of the season, pitching the San Francisco Giants to a 3-1 decision over Houston Saturday.

It was the sixth victory in seven games for the Giants, who played without the services of Willie Mays. Mays was hospitalized for a brief rest following an influenza attack.

McCormick, who struck out eight and walked one, ran his scoreless string to 20 2-3 innings before the Astros broke through for a run in the eighth on a single by Julio Gotay, an infield out and a single by Rusty Staub.

The Giants broke up a scoreless duel between McCormick and the Astros' Mike Cuellar in the sixth. Dick Dietz walked, moved to third on a single by Hal Lanier and scored on a force play, with Tito Fuentes beating a double play throw to first.

Virginia Takes District Title Behind Bedford

PITTSFIELD — Virginia's American Legion team rode the hitting and pitching or right-hander Steve Bedford to the district 20 championship here Saturday afternoon, downing host Pittsfield 5-0.

Bedford gave up only a pair of singles, while striking out ten and walking two, in going the seven inning route. Virginia claimed eight hits, all singles, off three Pittsfield hurlers.

Bedford supplied all the needed offensive attack with a two-run single in the second, later scoring on Chuck Vincent's single.

Virginia added two more in the fifth, when Danny Daring singled home Cal Forman from second, and came around on a wild pitch.

The win moves Virginia into next weekend's divisional championship tournament in Jerseyville.

It's A Family Affair' With The Browns

By SANDY PADWE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
NEW YORK (NEA)—Everyone would have understood if Ollie Brown had taken the day off May 13.

The night before, the San Francisco Giants outfielder had taken a pitch square on the jaw in a game against the Houston Astros. "Ollie," said the Giants' trainer, Leo Hughes, "didn't know where he was."

At the time of the beating, Ollie Brown was a reserve outfielder with the Giants. On May 13, manager Herman Franks decided to move Ken Henderson from right to left-field. That meant the Giants needed a rightfielder.

Ollie Brown? Well, the inside of his mouth had been stitched and his face was swollen.
Franks asked Ollie if he felt like playing. It was like asking a condemned man if he'd rather have life. "It was tough enough to get into the lineup," Ollie said, "I didn't want to stay out."

So Ollie Brown, still somewhat shaken from the evening before, went to right field for the Giants. He has been there since.
"Playing regularly made the difference," Ollie said. "You get in there and your confidence just builds up."

In Ollie's case, his confidence was bolstered by 11 home runs in six weeks. "I always hit home runs in bunches in the minors," Ollie said. "I don't know what the reason is. I don't much care either as long as I hit them."

Ollie spent five seasons in the minors, including one at Decatur of the Midwest League in 1963 as a pitcher-outfielder. He pitched an 8-0 no-hitter against Wisconsin Rapids that season and finished with a 9-8 record and 4.76 ERA. He also led the league in wild pitches with 23.

The next season he was back in the outfield in Fresno, Calif., where he hit .329 with 40 home runs. That made the home office take notice. A year later at Tacoma of the Pacific Coast League, he had 27 home runs and a .293 average.

Then it was up to the majors, but until this year, Ollie's career was anything but outstanding.
"I wasn't thinking of quitting," Ollie said, "but I didn't want to go down again."

Ollie's big hope now is that his brother, Willie, has the same good fortune with the Los Angeles Rams this season.

Willie was a halfback at the University of Southern California when the Trojans won the national championship in 1962. He also was a .352 hitter on the USC baseball team, which pulled a rare double by annexing the college baseball title the same school year.

"He chose football because of the bonus," Ollie said. "And because he didn't want to have to go to the minors. I think if he would have played baseball he would have made it, though. He was very good (an outfielder, too)."

Both the Rams and the San Diego Chargers would like Willie badly, but Willie chose the Rams, who shifted him to flanker. A series of pulled muscles kept him on the bench most of his rookie year in 1964.

The following year he played flanker, split end and wound up the season as the Rams' starting left halfback.

Then in the off-season, Willie suddenly found himself traded to the Philadelphia Eagles. It turned out to be another frustrating year in 1966.

Willie showed all the moves that made him one of the nation's best collegiate football players and he was starting for the Eagles at flanker when injuries struck again. This time it was a badly bruised leg that forced him out.

In mid-season, the Eagles put Willie on waivers and the Rams reclaimed him. Now he has another chance in his home town.
"You never know how things will turn out," said Ollie Brown, who got up from a beating and won himself a starting job.

Willie wasn't hit by a baseball, but a leg injury to a flanker is just as serious.

If he only can come back like his brother.

OUTLINE APPROVED CHANGES IN STATE BOAT REGULATIONS

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — William T. Lodge, director of the Illinois Department of Conservation, announced that the General Assembly has enacted many changes in the state boat law with regard to boating equipment and operation.

A U.S. Coast Guard approved lifesaving device is now required for each person on board all watercraft in Illinois. Previously, the law required that an approved lifesaving device be carried by boats propelled by machinery. Now vessels or craft of any kind used for water transportation must carry approved lifesaving devices.

All sealed compartments on watercraft burning gasoline for fuel must be ventilated. At least one intake duct must extend from outside the craft to midway into the bilge or sealed compartment. One exhaust duct must extend from the lowest part of the bilge or compartment to the outside.

All ducts must be at least two inches in diameter and they must be fitted with cowls. The intake cowl must face forward and the exhaust cowl must face aft.

No one under 12 years of age may operate a boat with a motor of 10 horsepower or more unless he is directly supervised by a qualified person 16 years old or older.

Large boats operating in confined channels now have the right-of-way over smaller craft.

Alton Northside Takes Redlegs

Alton Northside blanked the Jacksonville Redlegs in the opener 2-0 and then broke a 3-3 deadlock in the second game with a two-run double in the Yankees Sweep 1st Twin-Bill Of 1967 Season

NEW YORK (AP) — Fritz
Peterson blanked Cleveland 2-0 on four hits after Al Downing had fashioned a five-hit 2-1 conquest Friday night as the New York Yankees scored their first doubleheader sweep of the season.

The Yanks had lost two and swept nine twin bills before the two, walked three and had only drought with their sharp performances.

For Peterson, it was his second straight victory after losing his first eight. He struck out two, walked three and had only two scares, in the fourth and eighth.

In the fourth, singles by Rocky Colavito and Don Demeter, and an error put Indians on second and third, but he got Chico Salmon on a fly to end it. In the eighth, a bunt single, a walk and a force play had runners on first and third, but Peterson got Joe Azcue to tap back to the mound for the third out.

The Yanks got their first run in the first inning on a walk to Dick Howser, a single by Joe Pepitone and Mickey Mantle's sacrifice fly. Their other run, in the third, came on a single by Pepitone and pop fly singles by Mantle and Steve Whitaker.

Downing struck out five and walked one in his first game effort, running his record to 10-5.

A fourth inning homer by El-ston Howard broke a 1-1 tie.
Pepitone drove in the Yanks' first run, in the first, with a double, but the Indians matched it in the second on Azcue's double and a single by Rocky Cola-vito.

CINCINNATI (AP) — Tony Perez bases-loaded single in the 10th inning gave the Cincinnati Reds and rookie right-hander Gary Nolan a 1-0 victory over the New York Mets Friday night.

Nolan hurled a five-hitter for his eighth victory against two setbacks in winning a brilliant duel against the Mets' Jack Fisher.

Fisher, 6-10, got the first two men he faced in the 10th, then walked Floyd Robinson. Vada Pinson lined a single to center, sending Robinson to third, and Pete Rose drew an intentional walk, filling the bases, before Perez delivered the winning hit to center.

The Reds blew a scoring opportunity in the fifth when Der-on Johnson led off with a walk and went to third on Lee May's double. But Fisher stranded the runners by getting the next three hitters on infield taps.

Aaron, Carty Lift Atlanta Over Phillies 4-2

ATLANTA (AP)—Rico Carty slammed a three-run homer in the first inning Friday night, igniting Atlanta to a 4-2 victory over Philadelphia, whose comeback bid was checked by Hank Aaron's 23rd home run of the season.

Carty's 11th blast of the year came after Mack Jones walked and Aaron doubled.

The Phillies had taken a 1-0 lead when Tony Gonzalez led off the first inning with a homer.
They cut the Braves' lead to 3-2 in the third when Gonzalez scored on John Callison's infield

WASHINGTON (AP) — Paul Casanova looped a two-out single to right in the eighth inning Friday night, driving in two runs and leading the Washington Senators to a 3-1 victory over Detroit.

It was Washington's fifth straight victory and Detroit's fourth consecutive defeat.

The Senators' Phil Ortega and Earl Wilson of Detroit were locked in a 1-1 duel until Washington broke it open in the eighth.

Ed Stroud's single leading off the inning was only the fourth hit off Wilson. Stroud stole second as Frank Howard struck out, and continued to third on Bill Freehan's overthrow of second. Fred Valentine walked.

Hank Aguirre came on, but walked Mike Epstein to load the

A's Snap Losing Skein With 3-2 Minnesota Win

MINNEAPOLIS — ST. PAUL
(AP) — John Donaldson drove in two runs with a pair of singles and rookie reliever Tony Pierce snuffed out a bases-loaded threat in the sixth inning, leading the Kansas City Athletics to a 3-2 victory over Minnesota Friday night.

The loss snapped a three-game winning string for the Twins and ended Kansas City's losing skein at six games.

Donaldson drove in one run in the third inning with a bunt single, then singled another run home in the fourth when the Athletics scored twice to break a 1-1 tie.

Pierce relieved winner Chuck Dobson, 5-6, after the Twins loaded the bases with two out in the sixth on Russ Nixon's infield single, a walk and a hit batsman. Pierce struck out Rod Carew to end the threat and preserved the victory although

Lions Will Lose Veteran Tackle, Another Stays

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Lions announced Friday they had persuaded offensive tackle Charlie Bradshaw to abandon his planned retirement, but that another veteran tackle, Daryl Sanders, had decided to give up football.

Rights to the 31-year-old Bradshaw, a nine-year National Football League veteran, were obtained in a trade of running back Bruce McNenna to the New Orleans Saints earlier in the year. The new NFL club had drafted him from Pittsburgh.

At the time of the trade,
Bradshaw had announced plans to devote his time to practice of law in Houston, Texas. General Manager Russ Thomas of the Lions said today, "we took a calculated risk and the gamble paid off."

Bradshaw stands 6-foot-6 and weighs 260 pounds. He started his NFL career with Los Angeles and went to Pittsburgh in 1961.

Sanders, who already had signed a 1967 contract, said after a conference with Thomas that "due to the pressure of business duties, I simply cannot find time for football."

Never A Dull Moment At The Western Illinois 4-H Camp

There's something going on every minute of the day at the Western Illinois 4-H camp on the shores of Lake Jacksonville. Last week 209 girls and boys, under 14, from Sangamon, Scott and Morgan county were there, along with 24 counselors and 4-H leaders there to help out with the program of 4-H: Learning by Doing.

Each week, campers from some of the 19 counties in the district come in at noon on Monday and leave right after the noon-day meal Friday. Registration runs around 200 per week. Wesley Hilligass, Springfield high school staff member who lives with his family in the caretaker's house at the camp grounds near Asbury church, is in charge of the camp again this year. Bob Long, a Western Illinois U. student and son of the farm adviser in Montgomery county, is in charge of the most popular spot in the area — the waterfront — despite the unusually cool weather we've had this month.

Another WIU student, Peggy Kleinlein of Mt. Sterling, is in charge of crafts and Sandy Six, also from Mt. Sterling, directs recreation. She attends Illinois College. Lester Hatton, biology instructor at Illinois College, leads the studies in nature. Janie Morrison, R.N., is the nurse on deck every hour for first aid and attends to every physical discomfort except home-sickness, and the cooks are Ethel Parker, Daisy Simmons and Viola Nuege, all of Mendon, Adams county. Mendon has had a wholesome monopoly in the camp kitchen ever since it started nearly 20 years ago. Volley ball is one of the No.

1 games at the camp. You can get in any time you wish, and get out anytime you wish. You have to check in to go swimming. Miss Clarene Brewer, Morgan county assistant home adviser, is shown at left, as three 4-H club girls pick out their identifying disks: Kathleen Thorndike of the Franklins, Kathy Reiser of the Berea Lassies and Laura Thiele of the Meredosians. The craft hall is a mighty busy place. There the campers are encouraged to use their imagination and made "take home" items from any available material. But more refined materials are there for purchase at cost and basket weaving is a prime project.

But weaving a basket, even with store-bought ready-to-use materials, isn't the easiest thing in the world to do. In the third photo Mary Headen of the Jacksonville Domestic Dandies shows how it is done to two rather discouraged aspirants: Mary Megginson and Jennifer Marshall of the Auburn Auburnettes.

Billion Bushel Crop And Large Carryover Fret Soybean Group

Increased competition for U. S. soybeans in export markets combined with the nation's first billion-bushel soybean crop expected this fall will face the American Soybean Association's 47th annual convention at Peoria, Aug. 14-16, with some hard problems, says Chet Randolph, acting executive secretary-treasurer.

Many countries have increased production of fats and oils—most notable being Russia's record sunflower seed crop last year — and have contributed to a world fats and oils surplus, according to Randolph. Russia and other East European countries have become net exporters of fats and oils instead of importers as they have been in the past.

Soybeans have long been the nation's No. 1 agricultural growth industry, Randolph says, but neither domestic nor foreign markets have shown the expected growth this year. As a result, the United States is faced with a carryover of over 100 million bushels this September. At the same time, farmers planted a record acreage to soybeans last spring and a billion-bushel crop is predicted. These problems will be dealt with by convention speakers, says Randolph. The formal program will be held at Hotel Pere Marquette. There will be a field tour Aug. 16, to nearby farms and to see research work on soybean products in progress at the Northern Regional Research Laboratory in Peoria.

Randolph believes the long-term growth in the markets for soybeans will continue. "Increasing population and a rising standard of living in most parts of the world, the demand for enough to eat by developing countries, and expanding livestock populations which will increase the demand for soybean meal for livestock feed provide a growing long-term demand for the oil and protein which are furnished by the soybean at such reasonable cost," say

Randolph. "The difference from the past is that we will now have to work harder for our markets."

4-H To Choose State Entrants

The Morgan County 4-H federation will hold its July meeting Wednesday evening at the fairgrounds and at that time the agriculture clubs will hold their annual public speaking and demonstrations contest. It will begin at 7:30 p.m. and everybody interested in 4-H club activities is invited to attend.

At that time one boy and one girl will be chosen to represent the county in the state public speaking contest held in conjunction with the state fair. Also two demonstrations will be picked to enter the state contest.

Import regulations for foreign-produced round white potatoes were tightened by USDA this week, improving market prospects for the North Carolina and Virginia areas where these potatoes are grown.

The 'Weed Killers' Plot At Bethel

Quite a few farmers and landowners are looking at a field of Shelby soybeans and a field of Burrus BX2 corn on Route 104, just east of Bethel, these days. They are viewing a demonstration of how today's herbicides work.

The crops were put in by Herman Lakamp, in cooperation with Arlen H. Rusch of Springfield, agricultural chemical specialist for the Standard Oil Co. The experimental plots include 10 different treatments for soybeans and 20 different ones for corn.

"Actually," Lakamp said, "we should have Gene Post of Chapin in this picture, because he did most of the work. But he is so busy spraying weeds today that he couldn't be here."

Standard Oil makes some of the chemicals used in the demonstration, but all major chemical concerns are now in the field. And their products were used in the plots — and show up very well.

Wide Cost Range Costs are of special interest to farmers with a weed problem. They ranged, in the Bethel plots, from $21 an acre down to 22¢ per acre for the material, exclusive of cost of application.

This year Rusch had a similar plot in Logan county, near Hartsburg, and the 22¢ per acre application of one-sixth of a pound of 2,4-D LV Ester showed up better than anything else.

"The weather is mighty important so far as any phase of farming is concerned, and this goes double for herbicides," he said. "Right after we got through spraying that part of the world got a three inch rain and in many plots we had no control at all. We might as well have kept the materials in the can or the bag."

Recommend Actions by Rusch

1. Identify your problem. There's no sense in using herbicides just because your neighbor does. Herman had no weed problem here, because he has been a good farmer all his life, year after year. We put the demonstration plots here because it was a nice place, along a good road, with ample parking space, and because Herman and Gene were willing to cooperate.

2. Plan ahead. What will you have in a particular field next year? The carryover of a weed killer in a corn field may be pretty toxic to soybeans the next year.

3. Put the chemical on right. Good equipment properly calibrated and operated by a man who knows what he's doing is 100% essential for good results.

4. Read the labels. Take care of yourself. Clean up. Chemicals that kill weeds can kill you, anything else.

All interested persons are invited to inspect the plots from now until harvest. The first four rows were not cultivated at all, the second four rows were run over once by a rotary through spraying that part of the world got a three inch rain once. Persons wishing to take a thorough look at the plots will find an improvised stile over the fence, just next to the sign.

BRIMFUL and running over

By Jim Brim

With the rain we have had it was quite difficult to cultivate corn and some corn wasn't even cultivated. Wet seasons such as this make the use of herbicides very important.

Take time to do some checking on the results obtained by the use of herbicides.

Check your own fields. Look at your neighbors and if possible look at some comparison plots. We have a few of these around. There's a good one just east of Bethel on Route 104 worth looking at.

Don't wait until next spring to determine what you will use. Compare results now during the growing season. It's much more interesting and enlightening to see results, or lack of them, rather than read about them.

Now you should . . .
... eat sensibly.
... watch prices of your products.
... kill poison ivy.
... top out hogs.
... swim.
... eat ice cream.
... determine wheat and oat yield per acre.
... look for "lost" tools.
Flattery is the art of telling another person exactly what he thinks of himself.

Judges Of Livestock At Fair Well Known

Junior exhibitors at the county fair will learn the strong points and the weak points of their livestock entries, for the fair board has selected a panel of judges of more than ordinary talent.

Hog buyers from the Virginia Packing Co. will lead off with the first show, the carcass class, at 8 p.m., Tuesday, July 25. This show is restricted to Morgan county residents.

All entries will be weighed and totaled between 5 and 7 p.m. Tuesday and will be taken directly after the show to Virginia for slaughter and grading.

The judge of the purebred and crossbred swine show will be Francis Callahan, Milford, Iroquois county, hog breeder and a judge of international repute. He has judged hogs in most countries where pork is produced.

He will be the judge at the National Barrow show in Austin, Minn., in September of four breeds: Poland China, Chester White, Duroc and Yorkshire.

The beef cattle judge will be Paul Lamb of the U.I. College of Agriculture research farm. This will be his first appearance as a judge here.

Jerry Harpstead, U.I. dairy specialist, will return this year to judge the dairy show.

Gale Cole, young Greenfield sheep fancier, will judge that show. Just a few years ago he was an enthusiastic exhibitor of sheep at the various county fairs and the Illinois State Fair.

Harry Wright, Pike county farm adviser, will pinch-hit this year for the old reliable judge of poultry, rabbits, garden, agricultural products and miscellaneous, Stanley Klaus of Carlinville.

Klaus retired at the close of the school year as vocational agriculture instructor at Carlinville high school and he is spending the summer visiting relatives in Scotland.

4-H Club News Notes

The Berea Lassies 4-H Club met Tuesday at the Berea church.

All members were told what they should exhibit at the fair. Ruth Ann Johnson told of her stay at the University of Illinois during the State 4-H Week.

Talks and demonstrations were given by Kathy Reiser, Ruth Ann Johnson, Cindy Martin, Rita Ratliff and Diane Farmer.

CARROLLTON — The local achievement of the Kane Lucky Lassies was held Thursday evening at the Kane Methodist church.

The members who modeled clothing were Beverly Cummings, Kimberly Crane, Cheryl Darr, Maxine Smay, Debbie Steinacher, Cathy Allen, and Pam Gummershimer.

All girls who were entering food brought gingerbread to display. Demonstrations given in the food category were given by Beverly Cummings and Nancy King.

Miniskirt Puts Style Attention On Lingerie

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Fashion Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — Nothing in fashion history has attracted as much attention to lingerie as the miniskirt.

And as sometimes happens after being in the public eye, the industry is up to all sorts of antics to make certain it does not wind up once again as underwear cover to outerwear.

"Walkaroundables" is a word coined by Warner's Slimwear to describe one such antic among others demonstrated Tuesday at a week-long program of fall style previews called the American Designer Series.

Ignoring the fact that the outerwear industry had previously stolen their style by producing evening gowns that look like nightgowns and little dresses that look like slips, the innerwear industry blithely brought out a line of bold patterned jersey pajamas and nighties. These are for sleeping in subways, park benches or beaches when there is no room at the inns.

Unmentionables with the intent of being mentioned after being seen under garments so short they barely cover their subject were more antics. Regimental stripes on the edges of pantie girdles match the regimental stripes on knee socks. Some girdles were flag striped or painted with pretty posies so any glimpse was a fashionable contribution to the over-all picture.

Set Bid Date For New School In Unit No. 27

ARENZVILLE — The Board of Education of Community Unit School District No. 27 met in regular session at the School Board office, Concord, on Wed. July 12, with all members present. Also present were the superintendent, Leland Schnake, and the unit secretary, Patricia Bischoff.

Frank W. Horn and Donald R. Meyer of Horn, Meyer and Peter, architects, of Quincy attended the meeting and gave a complete progress report on plans for the new junior-senior high school building to be built in the school district.

Wednesday, August 30, was the date set for opening bids on construction of the building. A special meeting of the Board will be set for the succeeding week to accept bids.

A teaching contract was offered to Mrs. Roberta Clark of Arenzville for the 1967-68 school year.

Applications from two young men residing in the Unit No. 27 school district announcing their intention to attend recognized public junior colleges in Illinois were received.

The board accepted the applications of Richard J. Morris and William Francis Meier, and will pay tuition costs as required by law.

The board approved a Title I, ESEA, project in reading improvement for the 1967-68 school year, and authorized the superintendent to file a project application.

Eat Lightly on the Road

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q — We are going to drive a thousand miles on our vacation. What's your best advice about eating at roadside stands and restaurants?

A — Just use common sense about your vacation diet, suggests the American Medical Association. Many a family trip cool, dry place. But once has been spoiled by too many liquefied, it will keep in the roadside hamburgers and soft drinks. A sound rule while driving cross-country is to eat as you know, nonfat dry milk is lightly. Be cautious about heavy, whole milk with water and fat rich meals, particularly if you're not accustomed to such fare at home.

Q — I can buy nonfat dry milk in very large packages and save money. But I wonder how long it will keep in good condition?

A — It will keep well for several months in a tightly covered container, stored in a dry place. But once has been spoiled by too many liquefied, it will keep in the roadside hamburgers and soft drinks. A sound rule while driving cross-country is to eat as you know, nonfat dry milk is lightly. Mac Group At Purdue Slow Learner Workshop

By ANDREA HEISS

A group of 22 students with Miss Delilah Newell and Miss Anita Hernandez in the MacMurray College Summer School Learning Disorders Workshop visited the Achievement Center for Children at Purdue University in West Lafayette, Ind., to observe first hand the techniques of the Kephart method for teaching slow learners.

Included in the group were Veva Ann Cornett of this city, Pauline N. Crumley, also of this city, Dennis East of Pittsburg, Marjorie Rick of Pittsburg, Zona Hack of Pearl, Nancy Mansfield of White Hall, Julie Jameson of this city, Elizabeth Newingham of Waverly, Martha Svob of this city, Veda Whitmore, also of this city, Imogene Wilde of Petersburg and Andrea Heiss of this city.

MacMurray College is one of the three universities and colleges that received grants for the workshop from the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

The program's purpose is to train and evaluate children having learning problems, help parents of these children to better understand their difficulties, and provide parents with training programs which can be carried on with the child in his own home and community.

The Achievement Center's aim is to assimilate information from interviews, tests, and observation of behavior. Psychological tests are administered which include measures of intellectual ability and diagnostic measures of motor adequacy, sensorymotor development, and perceptual organization.

Prayer Poem

Empty Handed

By Mary Pence Claywell

Folk can brag about their riches,
And can reach and grab for more,
Never satisfied with PLENTY . . .
Or the wealth, they have in store:
We can push for higher wages . . .
Never have TOO MUCH, some cry,
Yet they never think of others.
Those, Dear Lord, who just get by:
So the TAXES keep on climbing,
And when all is done and said,
Some folk, Lord, begin to ponder
How they'll even buy their bread:
Yet no one can take it with them,
Nay, neither wealth nor fame . . .
We all came in EMPTY HANDED,
And we'll ALL GO OUT THE SAME:
Sad, it is, Lord, we're so foolish,
Never keep the TRUTH in mind . . .
'Twould be far more JOY to SHARE it,
Than to LEAVE it all BEHIND!

Campfire Fun

The Summer fun,
It is so very near,
I can hardly wait,
Till Summer is here.

We will go swimming,
And have great fun.
We will sit around the campfire,
And eat hamburgers on a hamburger bun.

We will go boating,
And will go skiing,
And poor little ducks,
Will be fleeing.

We will hardly be home,
Cause Summer is not long.
So we will take advantage,
Of the short Summer long.

START IN SPACE

By Walter B. Hendrickson, Jr.

The Air Force has just completed tests of a maneuvering unmanned orbiting spacecraft called PRIME, for Precision Recovery Including Maneuvering Entry. The PRIME craft got its lift from the shape of its body instead of having wings like a plane. So it was called a "lifting body."

The next step in the Air Force's lifting body program is called PILOT for Piloted Low Speed Tests. PILOT is also built by Martin - Marietta and has a shape similar to the PRIME vehicle. However, the PILOT is not designed to go into orbit but to be dropped from a mother ship for flight tests over Edwards Air Force Base, California, later this year.

PRIME and PILOT are the last two steps of three in the Air Force's START (Spacecraft Technology and Advanced Re-entry Tests). The first phase of the program was ASSET (Aerothermodynamic / elastic Structural Systems Environmental Tests). These craft, built by McDonnell - Douglas aircraft of St. Louis, Missouri, were launched on a series of six suborbital test flights. The flights began early in 1963 and were completed in 1965. ASSET, however, was not a lifting body but had stubby delta wings, as shown in the picture above.

At present the Air Force has no set plans to carry the lifting body test beyond the PILOT craft. Martin - Marietta, however, has a program called SLOMAR—for Space Logistics Maintenance and Rescue. They hope to sell this to either the Air Force or NASA, (which has a lifting body program like PILOT). The five man SLOMAR's main job would be to bring supplies and relief crews to orbiting space stations and to rescue astronauts in emergencies. This lifting body is planned as the final step in National Orbital Rescue Service (NORS) following specially

THE PUPPET

Once upon a time there was a little puppet for sale in a toy store. Just then a little girl came by the window. She ran home to get some money.

"Mother, Mother," said the little girl, "May I have some money to buy a puppet?"

Mother said, "Where is the puppet?"

The little girl said, "At the toy store." So the little girl got the puppet and had fun playing with it.

Letter From 2 Readers

By Christine Hembrough

Two young ladies wrote me a letter. They prefer to remain anonymous, but I'll tell you what they wrote.

Dear Christine,
My friend and I would like to write to some of the soldiers stationed in Vietnam.

We would like to know how to go about getting their names and so forth.

We would appreciate your help.

Sincerely,
Anonymous

I wondered if anyone was going to write me anything about not writing about Samuel and John lately. They haven't written for awhile, I guess they've been really busy. But for those of you who would like to have your own pen pals in Vietnam, as the two readers do here are some suggestions.

I haven't got any names or addresses to give you, but I found this method very effective. John answered a letter and my friend in Peoria answered a similar letter.

Address the envelope to:
Anyone, Pen Pal Wanted
American Soldier Stationed in Vietnam.

APO, San Francisco, Calif. 96262.

Put either a five cent stamp or airmail stamp on it.

Good luck to anyone who writes. You might want to write

THE RUNAWAY

By John Rankin

As the gray light of a summer dawn spread over the mountain range Alvin opened his eyes and came to a sitting position on his bed of pine boughs and soft green leaves. Sheltered by an overhanging ledge, he had slept well and felt rested and ready for the long hard journey that lay ahead.

In a pensive mood, the boy lay back on his makeshift bed and let his thoughts dwell on the shattered pieces of his life, and to the circumstances leading up to his rather precarious position at the moment.

Only dimly he remembered living with an aunt in a stuffy, crowded apartment someplace. She had adopted him or something, but he had been unhappy in the city and at a young age he had been placed in charge of an uncle living deep in the heart of the hill country.

From the beginning he had been happy in the mountains with his Uncle Nate. He loved the freedom of the hills and the quaint little cabin in the valley, and he had made good grades another if you don't get an answer after six weeks. But, just keep in mind that these guys are busy and don't have too much free time to write.

Now, for what to write inside. Most important is to write your address! When you sign the letter, you might want to sign it, Your friend, then you first and last name. Put your return address on the outside too. Here's a sample letter.

Sample Letter
Your full name and address including zip code, and date.
Dear American Soldier,

I am interested in writing to someone in Vietnam. My name is Christine Hembrough. I am sixteen years old and a junior in school.

My hobbies include: writing, sewing, singing, dancing, acting, cooking, and photography. After I graduate I would like to become a model and/or a writer.

If you have a job include that. Just write information about yourself. Also, you should comment on your opinion of Vietnam. Say something like be careful.

Then, I hope that you'll be my pen pal. If you don't want to be my pen pal, will you please pass this on to a friend? Thank You.

Your friend,
Christine Hembrough
Don't Be Mushy

It's very simple. Just don't act "mushy." Just keep the letter an informational letter not a love letter. Ask them some questions, just keep up hope that you'll get a letter. You probably will.

One person that I now write to didn't answer my letter until six months after I sent it. He said that he lost the letter and my address which he copied on a piece of paper, then found the paper. We get along real fine now. He doesn't take six months to write.

Well good luck, and to the two girls who wrote—THANKS for your letter. I love male I mean mail!

Let's Go Birding

Breeding Birds Census

By Emma Mae Leonhard

Three of us from the Morgan County Audubon Society participated in two breeding - bird censuses on the mornings of May 10 and 12, the one including sections of Morgan, Scott, and Greene Counties and the second one covering parts of Cass and Morgan Counties. These were solicited by the Migratory Bird Populations Station in connection with the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife under the United States Department of the Interior.

Such random sampling is annually made throughout the states "in order to provide information on distribution and relative abundance of North American birds, and specifically to measure changes in abundance that result from such factors as changes in land use and widespread applications of pesticides," as stated by the Bureau.

We were given very definite and positive rules to follow. Contour maps of the assigned areas were mailed to us, including the routes to be studied. The two routes sampled urban and suburban areas as well as rural and wilderness areas.

We were asked to scout these routes by the following method: drive one-half mile; stop for three minutes and list the number of species of birds seen and heard from that spot, and the number of each species during that short period. We made fifty such stops.

We organized to make this study as scientifically accurate as possible. Before we made the final study, we scouted the country lanes and roads which wound around farms and woods little maybe Uncle Nate could persuade the courts or somebody to let him stay on and go back to the little school in the hills.

With these encouraging thoughts in mind Alvin hurried on hopeful of reaching home by sundown or at least before the dark of night closed in.

Paper-Stitchery Turns Your Little Girl Into a Paper Doll

By JOANNE SCHREIBER
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Have you tried sewing with paper yet? Gals who have tried it tell me that paper-stitchery is unbelievably fast, easy and fun. The results are sensational.

Little-girl dresses are a favorite project and the little girls look like real little paper dolls in those gay paper colors. By eliminating all those extra steps such as putting in facings and hemming, you could whip up several paper dresses in an afternoon.

You may have had trouble finding paper-by-the-yard, especially if you don't live near a big city department store. Some of you have even written to ask where you can buy paper in your part of the country.

If you're one of the many, many sewers who are dying to sew with paper, and can't find the paper to sew with, we have a very special offer for you—a pattern for a child's dress, enough paper material to make it, and a special leaflet prepared by the sewing experts at the Singer Company. The leaflet is jam-packed with helpful tips, bright ideas and additional items to make from paper.

The paper (actually nonwoven cellulose strengthened with fibers) is Tiger Tissue, 48 inches wide, and it's fire-resistant. You'll receive two yards of it in a gay, colorful, all-over summer print in just the colors and designs little girls love most.

Either of the two adorable outfits shown here is a natural for paper stitchery. Order either one, or choose a third which isn't pictured. Or get all three, and give your little girl a real summer wardrobe!

Sue Burnett Pattern No. 8168 has an old-fashioned mop-cap and matching panties to go with the little shoulder-tied dress. It's available in sizes 1 through 6.

The other little sundress is Sue Burnett Pattern No. 120, and it features a double row of ruffles at the hem, a pretty side-tied effect, and a little matching kerchief. Quilt binding makes the solid-color edging. This pattern will fit sizes 3, 4 and 5, so there is no need to specify size if your little paper doll is in this size range.

The third pattern, not shown, is the easiest of all. It is a very simple little sleeveless A-line with a button on one shoulder. It features a little kitten applique, which you can do in solid-color, iron-on mending tape. This dress, Sue Burnett Pattern No. 8317, is available in sizes 2 through 6.

You'll find that paper dresses for little girls are just great for travel, for color photography, for dress-up visiting, for Sunday picnics and for birthday parties. And when the ice cream drips (and it will) just cut the clean part in doll clothes, dollhouse curtains or a dollhouse rug.

To order your paper per package with pattern, paper and leaflet, send $3 each to Stitches' Time, c/o your local newspaper, P.O. Box 503, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify pattern number and size, and don't forget to include your own name, address and zip code.

CHICAGO (AP) — A government estimate that wheat and corn production this year would be the highest in this country's history set the stage for the sixth straight weekly decline in these grain futures on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Traveling Americans To Spend $5 Billion Abroad This Summer

NEW YORK (AP) — Americans and their dollars are heading to foreign countries in record numbers this summer. A vast exodus from the United States is under way despite pleas from Washington that Americans see their own country first and spend their dollars here.

More than 18 million Americans are expected to travel beyond the nation's borders this year and spend nearly $5 billion on their trips.

Many of these dollars will stay in foreign hands after the tourists come home, adding to the U.S. balance-of-payments problem. And as the dollars pile up overseas, foreign governments turn them in for U.S. gold, another headache for Washington.

In 1966 Americans spent an estimated total of $1.9 billion more in their travels abroad than foreign tourists spent here.

Cessation of hostilities in the Middle East has ignited an urge to travel in thousands of Americans who want to see Israel. Expo 67 is drawing other thousands to Canada.

Travel sources estimate that more than three million Americans will go overseas this year. In addition, 15 million will visit Mexico and Canada.

Almost 1.04 million new passports were issued by the State Department in the first six months of this year, compared with 962,000 for the same period of 1965.

Lifting the ban on travel to the Middle East prompted a deluge of passport seekers in New York.

In the past two weeks more than 18,500 persons jammed the office applying for passports, up about 37 per cent over the same period last year.

The sudden boom followed an Israeli advertising campaign geared to the war's end and the lure of a Jerusalem without national boundaries separating bushel, with the greater loss in the new crop months; between 3½ and 5½ cents a bushel on corn; oats ranged from ¼ lower to ½ cent higher; rye from ¼ to 2¼ cents lower; and soybeans from ¼ lower to 1½ higher.

Soybean oil closed the week 4 cents lower to 5 cents higher; soybean meal from 35 cents to 1.85 higher. Choice steers closed from 40 cents lower to 7 cents higher, per contract for the week.

When trade closed Friday, wheat was 1½ to 1¾ cents a bushel lower for the day, July 1.47½-46½; corn was ¼ lower to ½ higher, July 1.27½-28; oats were unchanged to ½ cent higher, July 71½ cents; rye was ¼ to 4½ cents lower, July 1.20¼; and soybeans were ¼ lower to ¾ higher, July 2.85-84½.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture reported Tuesday after the board had closed that 1967 corn production would total 4.5 billion bushels, which is 285 million above the 1966 record high and 139 million bushels more than the previous high set in 1958.

Production of all types of wheat in 1967 would reach 1.596 billion bushels, or 10 per cent above the record 1966 production, the USDA estimated.

While an increase in this year's production had generally been conceded by the trade via private crop reports disseminated within the last two weeks, no report had estimated wheat and crop production so high until the USDA's was issued.

Favorable weather for harvesting the winter wheat crop in the Southwest and the spring wheat crop elsewhere, also was a price deterrent.

So far as corn was concerned, better growing weather and harvesting in the South tended to depress prices, also.

Seasonal lows were set earlier in the week in soybeans and soybean oil futures, and on three straight days in wheat and corn futures.

Oats traded within a narrow range and closed the week higher in the nearby but lower in the deferred.

Rye advanced for six straight sessions, starting July 5 then weakened Thursday and declined around 1½ cents. The decline continued Friday, totalling more than 4 cents a bushel at the close. Rye futures had advanced some 5 cents a bushel before the weekend and closed lower.

Soybean oil's steady decline since early June was partially halted this week when the deferred contracts registered an advance. Soybean oil has declined about 150 points since the Israel-Arabian conflict started June 5.

Soybean meal trade was light, though futures advanced against mixed trade in oil and soybeans. In the choice steer market, trade slowed down this week, but it appeared that more local spreading between the Board of Trade and the Chicago Mercantile Exchange steers markets was being engineered. Daily trade was on the increase.

The merger, subject to the working out of a detailed agreement, must be approved by both boards of directors and the shareholders of both.

HORSEPOWER
 The word "horsepower" was established by James Watt in rating his steam engines by determining the rate at which horses could work, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

YOUR BIRTHDAY
and HOROSCOPE

By STELLA
 SUNDAY, JULY 16 — Born today, you are extremely sensitive to the actions and opinions of others. This is a trait which may well keep you from fulfilling your potential if your associates are of the sort that are more concerned with using you to fulfill their own ambitions than with helping you to achieve the goals you have set for yourself. Pick your companions with care; that is the best advice anyone can give you.

There will be many times in your life when you will be under tremendous pressures; when you will want to move one way and circumstances will force you to move another; when friends you had counted upon will turn against you; and when success you had been sure of will elude you. But you have an optimistic nature for all that, and you will not be upset for long, no matter what misfortunes befall you.

Success should be yours ultimately — though it may be long in coming. And because it may be long in coming, it is important to you to choose a marriage partner willing to wait patiently. To choose someone whose main joy is in material possessions would be a mistake, just as it would be a mistake to choose someone whose nagging comparisons would hold you back even further.

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Monday, July 17
CANCER (June 22-July 23) — Invest in more practical and less wishful thinking and you should be on your way to a bigger and better success.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23) — Don't let overoptimism spoil your good judgment. A day when the advantages of recent scientific study could be of great value.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23) — A day for mending recently broken fences insofar as your personal relationships are concerned. Delay no longer!

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23) — Schemes for quick profit will more than likely prove faulty; therefore, look askance on such opportunities.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) — Apply imagination and talent in equal parts to a new idea and you may come up with something very profitable.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22) — No great progress is promised for today — but the results of a good day's labor should be a good day's results.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20) — Follow your own interests and let others follow theirs. To try to please everyone today could prove the greatest folly.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19) — Be alert to new contacts that could be of help to you in sorting out various plans for the future. A beneficial day.

PISCES (Feb. 20-Mar. 21) — A good day insofar as your own efforts are concerned. Take care, however, not to place too much stock in the promises of others.

ARIES (Mar. 22-Apr. 20) — Stick as close to routine this morning as unexpected happenings will allow. To stray too far could lead to trouble.

TAURUS (Apr. 21-May 21) — Combine business and social activities to the best advantage of both. Don't allow others to interfere with your plan of action.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21) — Check over the material with which you are working. A faulty part could well make a faulty product.

DEFENDANT FOUND
INNOCENT FRIDAY

George R. Gimbel, 25, of 934 Doolin Avenue was found innocent of failure to yield the right of way before Magistrate Paul Fenstermaker Friday afternoon.

Gimbel was charged by city police May 22 with the offense following an accident on North Main. He entered a plea of innocent and asked for a trial without a jury. He was represented by Attorney Russell Alvarez.

In other court action Friday afternoon, Roscoe Ward, 47, of 322 Yates Street entered a plea of innocent to driving while under the influence of alcohol and waived trial by jury.

Magistrate Fenstermaker set September 8 as the date to hear evidence in the case.

ported that an eastbound unit operated by Elda D. Swise, 57, of Abingdon, Ill. stopped for a flagman at a highway construction area.

A second eastbound unit, driven by William Talton, 22, of St. Louis came up upon the Swise station wagon too fast to avoid an accident, and swerved to miss the vehicle.

The Talton vehicle struck the rear of the station wagon, and Talton was ticketed for failure to reduce speed to avoid an accident.

Troopers said that the incident occurred about 10:30 a.m.

ANIMAL TRAPS

There are three general types of animal traps. The enclosing trap catches the animal without hurting it; the arresting trap grips the animal and holds it, but does not kill it; and the killing trap is made to grip the animal, then kill it with a blow from an extra lever.

Seaside Lumber Co. To Build Redwood Assembly Facilities

Jacksonville's industrial park complex at the west edge of the city will become the new home for Seaside Lumber Co., manufacturers of redwood outdoor furniture and a variety of other redwood products.

The announcement of the construction of the new industry for Jacksonville was made jointly by John E. Bellatti, president of the Jacksonville Area Industrial Corp. and officials of Seaside, a subsidiary of Union Lumber Company, with headquarters in San Francisco, Calif.

Plans are underway to provide a 50,000 square foot building complex at the north end of Capitol Way, east of the Records, adjacent to the Norfolk and Western Railroad tracks.

Paul Pieper Construction Co. will build the facilities that Seaside officials expect to occupy sometime in October or November of this year.

Bellatti said negotiation with the Seaside firm has been in progress for more than a year. They will build on an 11 1/2 acre site owned by JAIC. The firm will employ from 30 to 50 people.

Jacksonville was selected for several reasons as the site for Seaside's assembly and distribution plant. The city's proximity to markets was, of course, of great importance. Rail transportation for raw material and truck transportation to marketing points was another factor.

Of equal importance was the potential employment possibilities for the firm. The firm will attempt to provide employment for persons with hearing handicaps. Officials at the Illinois School for the Deaf have worked closely with the firm in an effort to supply persons who have completed a vocational training program that would lend itself to the industry.

The firm will start interviewing prospective personnel within three months.

Raw materials will consist of pre-cut redwood parts arriving via railroad. The products will be assembled in Jacksonville and then shipped to retail or consumer points by truck. A railroad spur will be constructed when the building is near completion. The building will be a one-story brick veneer with 50,000 square feet of floor space and adequate room for expansion.

The building will be owned by JAIC and leased over a ten-year period to the firm. At the

Vandals Damage School Buses At Jerseyville

JERSEYVILLE - Vandalism of an extensive nature was reported Friday morning to the Jerseyville Police department from the bus barn of the Jersey Community High School.

Albert Clendinning reported early Friday morning that a number of school buses that had been parked outside the bus storage shed had sustained broken windows. The vandals had hurled rocks through the window.

After breaking the windows, the vandals entered the buses, and stole the first aid kits. After obtaining the first aid kits, the vandals proceeded to smear the seats and inside of the buses with the first aid materials.

All of the bus keys were then collected and these were subsequently found where they had been abandoned in the rear of one of the vehicles. A checkup reveals that vandals had been getting into the bus enclosure whether the gates are locked or open.

Plan Farm Museum For Early Equipment

Directors of the Morgan County Fair Association have been presented with a proposal to establish an outstanding Farm Museum by the owners of two of the best collections of early farm equipment, William Rees of Rees Station and C. D. "Pat" Kenny, of Franklin.

Both of these collectors have offered their collections to the fair association if proper housing can be arranged, and the fair board has elected Darrell Smith, of Alexander, as permanent chairman of the committee to determine the feasibility of making a permanent museum on the fairgrounds.

The late Milford Rees collected many old-time steam engines used in farm operations, early vintage tractors, and other farm equipment.

Pat Kenny also has collected many early pieces of farm equipment over the years, much of it using steam as a power source.

All of the Kenny collection is now housed at Franklin and much of the Rees collection is under roof, and in good condition.

The committee which Smith heads is determining the size of the building that would be required to house these collections, methods of financing the building and the type of building necessary for proper display.

Some state funds would be available for constructing the building, possibly within a year, but no cost has been estimated as yet.

The committee from the fair association, President Wayne Ginder, Clyde York, Glenn Spencer, Jack Smith and Amos Western, have inventoried the equipment available and are evaluating their inventory in terms of space required.

Meanwhile, the fair association has received approval to bring some of this equipment to the Morgan County Fair July 27 through July 30, for display in connection with the display of new farm equipment.

Plan Christening Of New Towboat At Beardstown

BEARDSTOWN — One of the most modern towboats to ply the Illinois River will be christened at the boat marina in Beardstown on Saturday, July 22, according to Glenn Fearneyhough, president of the Beardstown Chamber of Commerce.

The towboat, the Alfred E. Hagerty, is named after a Beardstown towboat captain who piloted boats on the Illinois River for the Material Service Company of Lockport owners and prime contractors of the new boat. The boat will be christened by Hagerty's widow, Mrs. Elizabeth Hagerty, in dedication ceremonies at 4 p.m.

During the ceremonies, Charles Soer of the Beardstown Chamber, and chairman of the Rivermen's Festival, will present the ship's bell to officials of the Material Service Company, which is a division of General Dynamics Corp.

According to Soer, seven company officials and a crew of six will accompany the boat on its maiden voyage from Lockport to Beardstown.

The towboat, 85 feet 7 inches in length, 30 feet wide and 9 feet 11 inches in depth, will operate between Morris and Chicago 24 hours a day. The main cargo is expected to be building supplies.

The new boat has four air conditioned staterooms with two beds in each room. The fully equipped galley is complete with refrigerator, stove and freezer. It is also air conditioned and has a television set.

Laundry facilities for the crew are available on board on the fully automated boat. All operations can be controlled from the telescoping pilot house.

A crew of eight will work in 21 day shifts, piloting the new towboat between its destinations.

Two 510 horse power Caterpillar engines power the boat and the boat's electrical power will be supplied by a 60 kilowatt Caterpillar diesel generator.

Officials of the Lockport company will open the boat for public inspection after the christening ceremonies have taken place next Saturday.

Robert Thomas Of Ashland Receives Medal

Boatswains Mate First Class Robert L. Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Thomas of this city, was awarded the Purple Heart Medal for wounds received on June 19th in a battle with Viet Cong guerrillas in the Mekong Delta, 25 miles south of Saigon.

Thomas was assigned to River Assault Squadron Nine as boat captain to one of the newly-designed Armored Troop Carriers.

The award was presented to Robert during ceremonies aboard this ship by Admiral Thomas H. Moorer, the prospective Chief of Naval Operations.
